Overview

New Moon Solar Eclipse in Scorpio Thursday October 23rd 5:58 PM EST

The Scorpio Moon cycle will unleash many plans. Many things which have been in the wings for some time will begin to move to center stage. Much if not all of the significance of these events will be linked to or extended from processes which involve personal and shared security. This means money and savings, where you live, job and income, contracts, deals and agreements.

Astrologically Scorpio has been highlighted for some time, since September 2012 when the Moon's north node made a Scorpio ingress and then followed by Saturn's Scorpio ingress October 2012, and so the Sun's recent Scorpio ingress brings much light to Scorpio things, the new Moon bringing activation. Both Venus and Pallas Athena will conjunct the new Moon at the very early degrees of this zodiac sign. Those who have been diligent and clear about their security situation will move toward increased realism in terms of bringing their objectives into physical reality. Those individual's who align themselves with plans and actions of others which are built on integrity, fairness, and mutual benefit, will experience a huge boost in their vision of harmony. Independent greed and hoarding on the other hand are poised to take a huge reduction simply because viable realistic methods of increasing security through mutual effort shine brighter.

The individual may find themselves somewhere between fighting for survival or, in a less traumatic situation, be taking actions to secure greater comfort. Working with others as in acknowledged partnerships or simply interacting with others within one's local community the individual will most likely be looking to advance their position in terms of security. Partnerships are a big thing right now and show the best course of action when wanting to improve a personal situation related to values and security. Mutually beneficial situations are typically best yet for now some past issues where certain individuals have been going it alone are being revisited and setup such that the individual can once again choose a partnership as opposed to a completely solo effort. For some people it is a natural thing, partnership harmony, and for others it can be challenging for various reasons. There have been many partnerships developed lately, or old ones rekindled, where the experience has been unexpectedly delightful. Some may have to accept a relationship or partnership situation they simply are not able to avoid yet it turns out to be a good thing. This is a good time to consider a partnership if one has been sitting on the fence due to a specific situation. Dysfunctional partnerships can explode as indicated by the Moon's south node transiting Aries and Mars, Aries ruling planet, making a Capricorn ingress this Moon cycle. Independent energy is going to charge ahead and make big efforts to secure their aim, whatever it takes. If this so called "independent energy" is orchestrated within a harmonious partnership then success is in view. Each person in the partnership carries out their particular role which is coordinated around an agreed upon objective. In some instances success may bring what you want so you can see that what you want is really not what you need. Also there may be some difficult situations which one thinks about and considers as they revisit some partnership situations now. For example reunions may cause some people to deal with a difficult area of their past yet the reunion is obviously colored by very good memories as well. Challenges within partnership are important to look at right now and if there is a difficulty in some particular relationship then the individual would be wise to look beyond the event and see the process they are dealing with. This process will most likely be related to integrity, acceptance, and trust. In order to cool out bad feelings and get in with harmonious partnership experiences, again this is the opportunity now, the individual must be willing to look at and admit they have been reacting to certain beliefs. Fleshing out limiting beliefs in regards to partnership harmony is like one of the best things an individual can do right now.

Venus and Pallas Athena are in conjunction with the new Moon indicating a Moon cycle which appeals to one's deepest feelings. Sensual responses become more evident and key to an individual's experiences as Scorpio is boosted and accepted. There is a great wisdom within the depth of Scorpio and we can expect Pallas Athena and Venus to bring it out in many individuals. The importance of accepting trusting and acknowledging sensuality will be made clear to many individuals as this is supported by these new Moon alignments. The potential for deep insight on important matters is boosted at the new Moon and throughout this Moon cycle. Those who trust that their feelings know what they are doing will stand to gain ground in extending security. An ability to accept what is happening in their world and to follow their feeling to discover or uncover the specific beliefs which they hold as triggered by these events allows them to see beyond their own past limitation. Some individuals have, for some time now become increasingly prudent with their values, their resources, their money. Contracts are precisely considered, objectives clearly defined, partnerships clearly and carefully structured. This Moon cycle indicates a continuation of interest in the many ways to share values, sharing will become increasingly attractive, longed for, treasured. Even though the awareness that much current inspiration is based fundamentally on sharing, real comfort and security is rooted in harmony and sharing, it may not be immediately apparent. The individual must first admit and own their beliefs which imply separation. Blockages in manifesting security are based on beliefs which imply separation and will show up as emotional reactions related to the so called blockage. The individual is able to comprehend this when they are aware that thought creates.

An exaggerated need to be acknowledged by the public may be stirring some individuals into public exhibition. Ideas and beliefs picked up over the years are being activated thorough events where someone's accepted idea of being publicly admired is acted upon. Underlining these events may be a process of seeking harmony between one's sense of feeling compassion and their need to simply take action and get involved. What beliefs does the individual hold which can facilitate these impulses? The logical mind seeks and aligns these impulses by accessing the individual's beliefs. The manner in which an individual presents themselves to the public in terms of exhibition is indicative of these beliefs. What is cool and is not is a belief, what is impressive and what is not is a belief, what success means and failure again is a belief. It is these things, these beliefs, which are being accessed. As the individual engages in public presentation they do so following the dictates of their beliefs. Of course not everybody believes the same thing although many do share enough within a particular belief pool to be attracted to the same event. Emotional reactions ensue which indicate to the individual who experiences them the quality of their belief as it is able to carry out the compassion urge as well as the urge to be publicly free. These beliefs are revealed to the individual who has the sense or awareness to observe them. In some cases the beliefs are buried and have in the past been projected onto others. However now there is a grand sense of going for it and many will be showing their beliefs by acting them out. The feeling impulses are important and the beliefs which the logical mind associates to them not necessarily as important. The beliefs are simply the choices an individual is making relative to their current practical reality, at least from their personal perspective. Our emotions however are very valuable because they show us the joy of connecting to greater experiences or they show us the pain of our own internal contradiction. When our emotional reactions are a great joy we allow a resonance to take off and bring us special experience where our beliefs harmonize as opposed to contradict one another. Ideally we will increase this harmonious resonance and allow ourselves to become increasingly congruent within our self awareness. The individual who can easily adjust their beliefs such that they can better facilitate their passion and sense of being publicly free will make huge gains in their goals and public image as their public image becomes the by-product of their self acceptance in this regard. The ultimate achievement being increased self love. The current big Scorpio wave which occurs during this Moon cycle can assist the individual as Scorpio is excellent at bringing the individual toward their chosen version of being an expert. What the individual will be required to do however is look at, identify, and alter their beliefs where necessary. The beliefs which must be dealt with are the ones which are directly related to the individual's emotional reaction as they pursue their goal.

Sun Sign

With this Moon cycle beginning in Scorpio the focus will be on emotional depths we reach by embracing shared experience. The current report, including the fourteen period cycle below, is scripted from the perspective of valuing and acknowledging the truth of sensuality and the rich life which unfolds into our immediate experience through sensuality. Such experience brings forward powerful energy which births new life and transforms our world in many ways. An evolution of self awareness occurs as this area of transformation and power is noticed and valued. Those born under the Sun sign Scorpio have a natural propensity to sensuality and deep rich involvement in life. They can surprise others at times with their talent, they become an expert in those areas which inspire them. Not to exclude others as we all have Scorpio somewhere in our personal astrology charts, the following is a simplified list intended to indicate where each Sun sign would experience deep insight in a natural way. There are many accents in each personal astrology chart where an individual's energy will be characterized by an apparent alternate Sun sign, as in being their Moon sign. In these cases we will see personal alignments which support a deviation of one's will from their highest order. The intention here is to clarify the basic inclination toward sensual experience of each Sun sign and thus create added meaning to the content of the report. These can also serve as healthy intentions.

I feel deeply connected to life when I ...

Libra: value how I have a natural propensity to know what is going on around me.

Virgo: trust that I connect naturally with the deep meaning of whatever is being communicated.

Leo: look deeply into my own self definition.

Cancer: allow my inspiration and sensuality to move into playful dynamics.

Gemini: am being responsible for what my sensuality brings to my attention.

Taurus: accept the deep feelings I have when I allow my self to experience partnership.

Aries: accept what I have started and allow the richness of the outcomes to be supported by my initial impulses.

Pisces: allow myself to experience new things and places.

Aquarius: embrace the value of my commitment to my career.

Capricorn: trust and value how my feelings always give me a deep insight concerning my social world.

Sagittarius: feel Mother Earth's presence in my body.

Birthdays

The Birthdays section is a list of birthdays which are being strongly affected by current astrological alignments. If a birthday is not listed here it doesn't mean that a person is not experiencing significant astrological influences which are dynamically paralleling life changes. After all we are experiencing tremendous Earth changes now, nobody is excluded. The people who do have these birth dates are being strongly influenced now and are likely experiencing life altering dynamics. In some cases great opportunities are occurring and in others great challenges are brought forward. Since all challenges can be re-framed as opportunities all those who have these birthdays are experiencing great live changing opportunities. If a birthday is just a day or so previous to the listed date then the person has recently experienced a major change. Due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the change is not necessarily complete, it may return. If a birthday follows a date listed the person will soon experience a major change. Again due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the person may have already begun a major change which seems to have backed off, and will most definitely return.

Fourteen Period Format

The Pathfinder Report follows the Moon through fourteen periods in 29 days beginning on the new Moon. The Fourteen periods, or phases, follow the Moon's journey through the entire Moon cycle. Each period will have a particular flavor or tone and is interpreted here as a unique opportunity. The first period begins at the moment of new Moon and continues until the Moon's first ingress. The Moon will ingress into the next zodiac sign thirteen times yielding fourteen unique periods. As each individual's journey and process is a unique personal adventure this report is to be considered a generalization. In some cases example scenarios are given to assist in providing clarity as to how specific astro alignments may be experienced.

To get a more complete or expanded feeling of this Moon cycle consider reading through the fourteen descriptions which follow. Many themes are included here and although relevant to the particular Moon phase and period are also relevant to the entire Moon cycle.

01 Thursday October 23rd - new Moon Solar Eclipse in Scorpio 5:58 PM EST

Mercury direct Saturday October 25th 3:18 PM

Mars ingress Capricorn Sunday October 26th 6:44 AM

As the external world of possibilities lines up with innate inner knowing we experience an accelerated sense of enthusiasm. Increased enthusiasm is indicative of both inner feelings and outer connections in mutual resonance. Automatic responses pertaining to accomplishment may be felt in a compelling way. Deadlines and urgency can also come into play. Either way the opportunity is to discover or realize new possibilities. Perhaps some desired outcome which failed to materialize in the past is in a more favorable and realistic setting. If one believes they are not their mind but have a mind they will choose to observe where it is their mind goes. Such an active well intended observance of who we are can assist greatly as we respond to the recent increases in action energy. The manner in which feelings are translated into external actions is linked via the logical mind. It is the shake up of one's beliefs which changes the foundation from which possibilities evolve. As the terrain, or external world, is also being adjusted or altered as indicated by Pluto in Capricorn, the new Moon in Scorpio will stir feelings associated with changing possibility.

02 Sunday October 26th - Moon enters Sagittarius 12:41 AM

With the Moon transiting Sagittarius some may feel their security is directly related to or dependant upon their public value, their reputation as being an important person. Some may question themselves as to whether or not they are doing good things for their community. Are we doing enough to feel satisfied about ourselves in regards to important things like being responsible environmentally or honoring our commitment to our beliefs about what is sacred to us? It is this sort of self questioning which can justify certain actions. We may feel better about ourselves if we make action instead of words or words alone. The important things we believe in may trigger more actions now than they typically would. Public reputation can be a factor as it may feel as if we need to take action in a public way such that we are known as being a person of action. With Jupiter, Sagittarius ruling planet currently transiting Leo, an individual's security and foundation can be connected to their public importance, some may feel they need to take certain actions because it appeases the identity they believe they hold publicly. An attraction to the deeper hidden meaning is indicated by the Venus Sun conjunction in Scorpio. An ability to feel out a situation more deeply than usual can more naturally occur during this Moon transit. A discovery or rediscovery of some personal talent may be reached simply by trusting one's intuition and following a deeply felt interest.

03 Tuesday October 28th - Moon enters Capricorn 6:04 AM

A challenge between pursuing a fantasy experience verses accepting the assumed real world implications occurs. In some cases there may be individuals who challenge each other regarding these impulses. Where one is keen on experiencing their dream or fantasy while another is, relatively speaking, much too serious to accept or consider it. Depending how an individual feels they will at times accept deeper urges to experience their human or organic sensual connection with the Earth, this includes sharing such experiences with others. There is an attraction to this deeper sensual experience, where this attraction is supported by an incredible influential insight, for some it may be big too juicy to let pass. The sense that some desire which is longed for can not be experienced because someone feels they are restricted or not allowed can occur as well. The need to control ones natural sensual impulse may for example occur. With Mars and Pluto also in Capricorn the Moon's transit there can trigger actions which can cause an avalanche of change to occur. There may be some pending change which is either needed or expected which is triggered. A repressed action or aggression can also be triggered. Things can be difficult if one feels panic, this panic leads to impulsive actions. On the other hand impulsive actions can be good if they are indeed coming from a congruent sense of purpose and thoughtful planning. One persons panicked action for example can trigger the actions of others who are better prepared to handle a situation simply because the impending event was accepted and at some point expected to occur.

04 Thursday October 30th - Moon enters Aquarius 9:53 AM

The dynamic between social acceptance and freedom of sensual expression, if such a dynamic exists for an individual, may be played out during this Moon in Aquarius transit. The sense of feeling privileged or free to do whatever one wants may be strong. Or feeling that one's freedoms have been taken away can get someone's attention. With the current transit of Juno in Leo some can be overly concerned about their appeal going so far as to seek attention by fabricating or exaggerating what is assumed to be admirable qualities. We develop as individuals then experience the value of that development through relationship experiences and as such begin to notice and accept admirable qualities in another because we have accepted them in ourselves. This potential for acceptance is higher than usual as in we may feel drawn to others or see others are more fond of us than usual. A longing for sensual experience can be felt and can lead to such experiences as indicated by the conjunction of Venus and the Sun occurring during this period. The Aquarius Moon will have some questioning who they believe themselves to be, what they deserve or what social station defines their allowed experiences, and so the dynamic between social acceptance and sensual impulses plays out. Some will discover just how free they really believe themselves to be as opportunities are either engaged or allowed to slip away.

05 Saturday November 1st - Moon enters Pisces 12:38 PM

This may feel like the time to fix a problem concerning the desire or urge to experience a fantasy with an increased degree of realism. An ability to find artistic harmony as it relates to some desired goal or project is more likely to occur. Being able to truly understand the value of some fantastic idea makes that idea more real. On the other hand fantastic ideas which are not seen as precious will perhaps be allowed to dissolve and disappear from interest. For some it will be the need for more or better boundaries as a solution to a current situation which to them is getting unnecessarily messy. Others still find the magic in a situation because of the very lack of boundaries. Turns out something which was concerned to be a fantasy or delusion is real, or the reverse, something which was assumed without question to be real is actually really smoke and mirrors. The way to deal with all this what is real and what is not is to accept that all is fantasy except for that which is clearly affecting one's health, to allow whatever belief one is triggering or experiencing at this time to reveal it's value. Sometimes a fantasy or delusion is the stuff which brings people together and is as such the glue for their relationship. Under the same reasoning a fantasy may be losing it's appeal because the correlating relationships are changing, some feeling it is time to move on.

06 Monday November 3rd - Moon enters Aries 1:54 PM

A strong powerful will has the potential to break through today. A new and effective way of dealing with a major challenge may appear. A determined approach will include making necessary change, or accepting changes, while at the same time getting deeper into an issue than one would typically go. The big heads up here is to realize you do not have to go it alone! It may seem superior to just do it yourself however this may be an escape the individual has been using to avoid interacting with others. Relationships have been refreshing lately, yes? Depending on an individual's specific situation some relationships, perhaps recent new one's, have been really great offering new experiences where sharing with others has been a big part of the joy. So now as the Moon transits Aries, and we are currently experiencing a transit by the Moon's south node in Aries as well, the individual will be challenged to be private in their move to do something which they feel is important. This however may ironically be a timid way out of dealing with an ongoing karmic relationship issue. Getting all worked up, which can happen in a flash these days as indicated by Uranus in Aries as well as the Moon's south node, can certainly occur to most people and yet at the same time the individual can observe this. "Oh look I'm getting all worked up here." The idea is to realize that you have most likely developed new skills, relationships skills, or have been interacting with someone recently, and so now there are other options. A lot of the wonderful opportunities occurring right now are due to accepting and embracing relating experiences which in the past may not have been there.

07 Wednesday November 5th - Moon enters Taurus 4:34 PM

Full Moon in Taurus Thursday November 6th 7:28 AM

Some serious matters in terms of security can be dominate in one's sense of priority. Before an individual starts taking actions to accomplish things which are important to them a solid reliable foundation or base to operate must first be established. It is the quality of this foundation which the individual is alerted to now while the Moon transits Taurus. Partnership relationships are key here as the relationship stability will testify to the steadiness and truth of that foundation. The quality of one's self esteem is also a major factor which must be somewhat established as it will bring resilience to one's character as they team up with others. Needless to say self responsibility is also typified by those who are making critical decisions in terms of what are the most appropriate tasks which will best contribute to a target objective. There is an ongoing interest in team work which for some may challenge past routines where things were done independently. Accepting and embracing partnerships can be like a light at the end of a long dark tunnel, experiences brightened, joy increased, simply by accepting the actions of another who also benefits from the relationship. The need to feel security will be higher than usual as the Moon transits Taurus and many individuals will accept and trust a partnership. Past partnership experiences which are painfully remembered may return now as memory where they prompt the individual to make different choices. In some cases when the individual takes responsibility for their past they clear the way for satisfying experiences now.

08 Friday November 7th - Moon enters Gemini 8:46 PM

Mercury ingress Scorpio Saturday November 8th 6:10 PM

Under Scorpio influence good conversation or the ability to share ideas can substantiate a partnership. Whenever the Moon transits Gemini some individuals can become overly sensitive to how things are said, or be reactive to ideas which challenge them. This is lessened when the individual is aware that we are not our mind, more precisely we have a mind. Never the less loose words or inaccurate statements can trigger reactions during this Moon transit. Some may discover how either themselves or others are affected by words, the power of words may reveal itself as related to an individual's situation. An emotional reaction triggered by an idea, or a message, can take on powerful effect, something said may cause things to happen in a bigger way than initially considered. The difference between saying something and backing it up with deeds and actions is a good thing or hopefully a typical thing however talk which is just talk can be disturbing to those who believe or expect words to carry integrity. During this Moon transit the difference between being responsible with words verses being frivolous as in saying whatever one pleases can become more obvious and hence revealing as to the true quality of some partnerships. Ideally one's ideas and conversation within a partnership will be the extension of the foundational security they share in the partnership, the main focus being on the extended reality implied by the words as opposed to the words alone.

09 Monday November 10th - Moon enters Cancer 3:39 AM

Sensitivity rises in many individuals when the Moon makes a Cancer ingress. Our vulnerable side may become more dominant. This is actually a good thing because it is our vulnerability and sensitivity which gives us the scoop as to what is happening in terms of the world we believe we live in. We could call it intuitive amplification. Some things may appear bigger than they typically do or seem louder than we typically notice. What has our ego perhaps overlooked? Two significant alignments occurring during this Moon in Cancer transit, Mercury moves into a trine with retrograde Neptune in Pisces while Mars conjuncts Pluto in Capricorn. What a time to be extra sensitive, when assertive individuals take actions to get things done, as these actions in many cases involve destroying what is perceived to be in the way. Some may be looking for the quickest way to get to where they want, especially in terms of a goal or project which has become important to them. Sensitivity here can cause panic, a pressure to get things done quicker dominates the individual. Or sensitivity here can be seen as a call to consider the consequences of some immediate impulse, as in something doesn't feel right. When this feeling reaction occurs do we pause or do we make a knee jerk type reaction and cause other things to happen which were not initially considered? Mercury in Scorpio trine to retrograde Neptune in Pisces indicates not only that feelings are affecting thinking, but also indicates nebulous type attractions are returning now and affecting reasoning. By trusting our vulnerability we may be able to better understand and accept a current challenge, a challenge like a new version of things which is in the process of calling for real space as it moves into reality.

10 Wednesday November 12th - Moon enters Leo 1:45 PM

An ability to love authority without having pride hurt describes a possible dynamic of this Moon in Leo transit. Typical challenges persist through this Moon transit regarding courage and boldness and the ripping down of long standing structures or systems. Social systems are in the midst of major change and things occurring now on the more personal level are likely linked to these changes. Ideally the individual will be involved from the perspective of being in some sort of harmonious action relative to these changes, if not things can be challenging. The manner in which resources and security are affected is certainly being highlighted. With Moon in Leo emotional reactions which can occur will most likely be related to an identity the individual has been holding yet may seem to be undermined. This can be a good time to detect external validation in regards to believing in oneself. Those whose self importance is dependant upon external validation can take a difficult hit. Accepting authority now will possibly change the dynamic, for example at work, yet the need to feel good about oneself must still be respected and anchored. The boss will be happiest if they are able to accept their situation as a natural extension of their integrity. A Jupiter in Leo square to the Sun in Scorpio indicates a narrowing passageway where importance must be accepted as the by-product of one's evolved circumstance. Some reluctant leaders may be elected to take charge, all of a sudden looked up to, as others see fit to accept them as such. It is an honorable position to be in yet some may feel tentative about accepting a crown. Truly there will be those who have earned it.

11 Saturday November 15th - Moon enters Virgo 2:09 AM

Neptune direct Sunday November 16th 2:07 AM

This is a time where some social situation can be set right, at least in terms of someone's opinion. It will likely feel important to some that the details of their association be clear, some may seem overly picky. This is a good time to be clear with those we hang with socially, to be clear about our ability to participate with them and others. It can potentially be a time where a sorting out is done making way for pleasant and peaceful times ahead. Getting there can be difficult as there is an air of criticalness in the way some see a situation. The need to separate fantasy from reality will be what is driving the concern. We don't want to smash fantasy or drown it or get rid of it, we just want to know that there is an elusive character to some mutual interests and that we need, for practical reasons, to maintain a realism about things. This will allow us to participate in all the things we do in a balanced way. It gets tricky when some people we associate with take some things more seriously than others. Perhaps a good way to describe the Virgo Moon transit of this current Scorpio Moon cycle is to become clearer and wiser, and even quicker, at identifying not only how real certain things are but also how real our friends think these things are. Another important aspect of this Virgo Moon transit is health, and actually this is that same thing. If we do have a flair up of some health concern then this is our body's way of saying, "hey there, you, pay attention to what is real and what is not".

12 Monday November 17th - Moon enters Libra 2:31 PM

Relationships friendships partnerships are subject to a higher degree of specific purpose and reason as would be typically experienced. Agendas will be important today, the matter of some relationships will be measured by how they either get in the way and interfere with an individual's plans or how they help facilitate desired outcomes. Someone may be more keen than usual to get something done or be on time. If an authority figure shows up today it may be a good idea to pay attention to how structure is needed in one's life as the external authority may represent an unwillingness by an individual to take care of some obvious responsibility. For those who have a clearly defined agenda which has already been well intended in terms of planning and resources, today will be a great time for expediting the things which are usually challenging. The way shared responsibility and shared resources are counted on to make the bigger plan work also comes into good light today, important decisions may be made. Frivolous self importance will not be tolerated right now so those who need this sort of attention, being considered important, will likely be identified and removed from important positions of responsibility within the structure of another's well designed agenda. On the other hand a new way of teaming up and relating can be developed and formulated, put into valuable use where all involved benefit from the association.

13 Thursday November 20th - Moon enters Scorpio 7:13 AM

Sun ingress Sagittarius Saturday November 22nd 4:39 AM

This is a rare Moon cycle in that the Sun will not make the ingress into the next zodiac sign until the final minutes of the cycle. As the Moon returns to Scorpio we will feel the significance of the past 28 days at least in terms of Scorpio type experiences. This has been and continues to be a month where many make bigger than typical efforts to get things done. Things we want to get done are important matters connected to survival, security, and comfort. For some there will not be avoiding others, also it can be an enjoyable mutual effort. Serious matters must be dealt with. Although we still await the Sun's Sagittarius ingress Sagittarius is currently transited by both Ceres and Vesta bringing again a serious or dedicated type influence to the concern of some individuals. This concern is directed to what is sacred to the individual, especially as it involves family, bloodlines, the Earth, and being environmentally respectful. Saturn currently transiting Scorpio was conjunct the Scorpio Sun just prior to this Scorpio Moon ingress again indicating that important things are being focused on. As we near the Sagittarius ingress and new Moon we can well expect our serious concerns and important matters to move into action phase. If you are waiting for something or someone to get moving as one's plans are dependant on them then do not be surprised if things start to happen around the next new Moon November 22nd. The way an individual's body, their body's needs, call for priority will be at the root of most people's big decisions right now.

14 Saturday November 22nd - Moon enters Sagittarius 7:20 AM

This coming Moon cycle in Sagittarius will see inspirational ideas moved into actions, activities increase as individuals react with optimism to their desires dreams and visions. There are eight heavenly bodies in fire signs at the new Moon indicating a time of actions. Jupiter in Leo indicates an increasing grand sense of self for some individuals and Mars in Capricorn indicates actions qualified by what is considered important to achieve one's personal goals. A sense of pride and dedication justify an individuals actions, strong beliefs and purpose supported by self confidence translates into what is assumed to be realistic outcomes. Some will appear as leaders as this is the natural outcome of their inspiration and belief in what is possible and is good, not just for themselves but for their neighbor their local community, for the global community. Soulstar Astrology Appointments Soulstar Astrology readings are based on the belief that thought creates. Our experiences and most especially our difficulties can be framed as opportunities to evolve toward one's higher plan. As humanity has, in the last several years and continuing now, been through identity discernment a questioning as to where one is headed and who the self is that is headed there may occur. The understanding of a particular identity will correlate with particular astrological alignments and planetary placements. Personal astrology charts show us how things are connected from a vast perspective. Knowing these connections and perspectives opens the door for more choices. Astrology works well with dates and so consider keeping a record or make a note of specific dates in which some major dynamic have occurred.
