Overview

New Moon in Aquarius

Friday January 27th 2017 7:08 PM EST

The new Moon in Aquarius will bring about a feeling and yearning for the freedom which is at the core of each individual. A feeling that we are born with natural rights, born free, can begin to dominate and influence the individual. Ideas which are typically strange are not so far out as each individual has the right to see things as they wish. Ideas considered off or unrealistic are worth pondering as we have the right to ponder. Saturn continues to transit Sagittarius so their will be a tight boundary on how career and professional people make decisions as their reputation is valuable to them. Mars will ingress Aries shortly and with Aquarius ruling planet continuing to transit Aries a rise in actions by the individual replaces their frustrations. Some may take action first and ask questions later. As Uranus has been transiting Aries since 2011 we have been seeing this on a regular bases, people simply going after what they want aggressively. This aggressive action has been qualified because people feel they have a natural right to have or do certain things and when they become suspicious of authority systems conflict can erupt. The missing element here is "thought creates" and as such the individual must realize they have been given the natural right to imprison themselves if such is the case. This means that denial is on display when violence is chosen. We can take actions of peace and ownership by admitting that we have created our circumstance and to know we have never been victims. We can also take action where we radiate peaceful and harmonious outcomes to those who know no better that to desperately blame. Our connection from one person to the next to the Earth and to Spirit is very real and we are assisted yet if we are gods in the making we must be allowed to play out our ideas. And thus we do have our natural given rights.

What was an optimistic relationship experience in the recent months or year can feel like it is beginning to unravel as quickly as it started beginning on Monday February 6th. On this morning Jupiter will move into retrograde motion and remain so until June 9th. A relationship blues may be triggered if there has indeed been a new relationship pattern begun when or following Jupiter's Libra ingress on September 9th 2016. The culprit may appear to be related in some way to social beliefs and social understandings, specifically in how we have interpreted individual rights relative to public acceptance or awareness. Ideally the individual will allow themselves to discover how their own beliefs character and identity are projected onto another, quite unknowingly. Using this astro process to discover one's own character can be valuable, unlocking the door to one's much desired relationship experiences, both socially and more personally. February 6th or 7th may be a day where an individual will exploit their own inner thoughts concerning who they are and unknowingly begin shinning this idea onto another who seems to be that character. Perhaps a calculation by one's ego places another in the cross hairs of one's own self denial? Once the individual is clear they are accessing themselves and the relationship subject is the event process correlating with this self assessment then this becomes self realization. Look for an optimistic relationship experience which began last September and now appears to be challenging one to accept something they where previously ignoring. There is great value in accepting the apparent flaw and making this blind spot visible to one's self. A more gentle way of relating and accepting others may be formulating itself, and this directly correlates with an evolving self realization.

An Aquarius Moon cycle in general offers an opportunity to begin something which may be out of the typical ordinary. Some far out idea or plan may be checked out as the Aquarius influence removes the limitation as to what is possible. In a sense an experience with Aquarius energy is like being given the opportunity to think outside the norm and to explore ideas typically not considered real or practical. Nothing can be too outrageous when considered from an Aquarius foundation. This current Aquarius Moon cycle comes at time when many are being extra vigilant at fleshing out the unreal or the nonsense from the real stuff. What is real and what is fake? And so this Aquarius Moon cycle offers the individual the opportunity to find the real meaning or the higher meaning behind what may have recently become questioned. The way it will or can work is the individual will consider an idea, one which is typically outside the consideration of accepted truth, and pay attention to how this idea is received socially. With Saturn transiting Sagittarius this means the social truth relative to your far out idea will be shown to you simple by the actions you are able to socially take based on this idea. There will be a discipline guiding social activity and so does this discipline imply your idea to be true or false? Or consider the opposition between Jupiter in Libra and Uranus in Aries. Will your idea cause you to openly create friendship easily and optimistically with others facilitating a feeling that freedom is honored in a public way? The ideal understanding here will be anchored in the belief that thought creates and so extending from this belief we can see that everyone is experiencing their own integrity. And so specific beliefs become less important than the strength of identity the believer demonstrates. In other words all things can happen however do these things happen in harmony with who one is socially or do these things collide with what is happening socially? Once we realize that we are fleshing out our own ignorance then we will become diligent and responsible, accepting all we are confronted with as if we are creating it, as opposed to griping onto some event or some needed validation. Our ability to bust our own denial puts us in a powerful and even superior position. We know that all is okay because it is really grist for the mill, what really matters is that we love and embrace ourselves for being the creator of our experiences. The far out idea of Aquarius is just that it is the process not the events which are the testimonial of our significance.

March 2011 through May 2018 is a time where humanity will seek social freedom. The individual will free their impulses and take action based on how public and social freedom is understood. This period is delineated by Uranus transiting Aries. This can be seen as a time when globally individuals take action toward what they believe is their freedom as decreed by existence. This freedom impulse of the individual can and does pool together with others who will suddenly create public and social events which epitomize their collective courage. Uranus as the planetary ruler of Aquarius becomes particularly significant now as we experience the Aquarius new Moon cycle. Many individuals, again globally, will feel the freedom and right to take action toward their idea of freedom they are privy to. New projects which signify freedom are launched. Mars will ingress Aries a few hours after the new Moon and the individual will feel the tank being filled. Jupiter transits Libra since last fall indicating some partnerships will be challenged, some supported, by those who are suddenly taking independent actions. Some newly formed partnerships will likely be educated on what this new relationship really means. Some previously not noticed within a newly formed partnership may suddenly be revealed, the real motivations are revealed by actions. Saturn's ongoing transit through Sagittarius indicates rules of social conduct are being suggested or enforced. The partnerships of some will be redefined as some boundaries are mutually stated, in some cases this will destroy the partnership, yet it can also build it. Underlining the social rumblings and the need for rules or boundaries in partnerships is the ongoing transit of Pluto in Capricorn. This is huge as it indicates, what we assumed to be the structure of a physical world, being completely destroyed and repackaged as another new or different world. If things are too unreal then you are noticing Pluto's power and effect. Significant for this Aquarius Moon cycle is the connection between ruling planet Saturn transiting Sagittarius who's ruling planet Jupiter is transiting Libra and currently opposing Aquarius ruling planet Uranus. New partnerships, or any social relationship really, would benefit greatly through the process of knowing our world is in a state of utter change and that relationships active now are assisting the individual in finding stability in a world where absolute truth has gone by by.

SunSign

With this Moon cycle beginning in Aquarius the focus will be on ideals and invention which support social well being. The current report, including the fourteen period cycle below, is scripted from the perspective of experiencing visions of freedom and all the opportunities and inspirations which spring from utopian focus. Such envisioned delights bring forward a feeling about one's self admiration. An evolution of self awareness occurs as the nature of how self admiration is related to public interaction is observed. Those born under the Sun sign Aquarius have a natural propensity to self admiration harmonized with social ideals. They naturally and easily move beyond boundaries of limitation which are qualified by social distinction. Not to exclude others as we all have Aquarius somewhere in our personal astrology charts, the following is a simplified list intended to indicate where each Sun sign would access Aquarius propensity for idealism. There are many accents in each personal astrology chart where an individual's energy will be characterized by an apparent alternate Sun sign, as in being their Moon sign. In these cases there may be personal alignments which support a deviation of one's will from their highest order. The intention here is to clarify the basic inclination toward social and public good will of each Sun sign and thus create added meaning to the content of the report. These can also serve as healthy intentions.

I experience social ideals ...

Capricorn: by how I observe and accept all who I come in contact with.

Sagittarius: by how I accept what others think and say without judgment.

Scorpio: by accepting the way I feel about myself relative to my social involvement.

Libra: by allowing myself to be filled with joy and inspiration as I embrace social freedom.

Virgo: by being discerning as to what is and what is not a personal responsibility.

Leo: by recognizing how my partnerships align me with new social potentials.

Cancer: by allowing these ideals to be creatively supported by my partnership experiences.

Gemini: by trusting and accepting new ways of being involved with humanity and the planet.

Taurus: through my dedication to the public, through my career.

Aries: by allowing my spontaneous self to be publicly involved.

Pisces: by being a member of the greatest social club of all, by accepting my inclusion within the symbiosis of Mother Earth.

Birthdays

The Birthdays section is a list of birthdays which are being strongly affected by current astrological alignments. If a birthday is not listed here it doesn't mean that a person is not experiencing significant astrological influences which are dynamically paralleling life changes. After all we are experiencing tremendous Earth changes now, nobody is excluded. The people who do have these birth dates are being strongly influenced now and are likely experiencing life altering dynamics. In some cases great opportunities are occurring and in others great challenges are brought forward. Since all challenges can be re-framed as opportunities all those who have these birthdays are experiencing great live changing opportunities. If a birthday is just a day or so previous to the listed date then the person has recently experienced a major change. Due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the change is not necessarily complete, it may return. If a birthday follows a date listed the person will soon experience a major change. Again due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the person may have already begun a major change which seems to have backed off, and will most definitely return.

Fourteen Period Format

The Pathfinder Report follows the Moon through fourteen periods in 29 days beginning on the new Moon. The Fourteen periods, or phases, follow the Moon's journey through the entire Moon cycle. Each period will have a particular flavor or tone and is interpreted here as a unique opportunity. The first period begins at the moment of new Moon and continues until the Moon's first ingress. The Moon will ingress into the next zodiac sign thirteen times yielding fourteen unique periods. As each individual's journey and process is a unique personal adventure this report is to be considered a generalization. In some cases example scenarios are given to assist in providing clarity as to how specific astro alignments may be experienced.

01 Thursday January 27th 7:08 PM EST - new Moon in Aquarius

Mars ingress Aries Friday January 28th 12:40 AM

A sense of boundless ambition can occupy some minds as great potential in social and professional future is imagined. An astute ability to accept and embrace one's social experience while fulfilling one's sense of so called social freedom can lead some to feel rather grand about their potential future. It is cautioned however that Jupiter will begin a retrograde phase on February 6th causing some to examine their relationships, especially those which seemed to have blossomed since last September. No matter there is good energy in terms of being clear about what is doable and what is not, to be attracted to being astute and sharp with one's sense of realism, especially in terms of career or public value. Family matters may seem to flow in there as well as some historic doctrine is fluent in beliefs held by some specific families.

March 2011 through May 2018 is a time where humanity will seek social freedom. The individual will free their impulses and take action based on how public and social freedom is understood. This period is delineated by Uranus transiting Aries. This can be seen as a time when globally individuals take action toward what they believe is their freedom as decreed by existence. This freedom impulse of the individual can and does pool together with others who will suddenly create public and social events which epitomize their collective courage. Uranus as the planetary ruler of Aquarius becomes particularly significant now as we experience the Aquarius new Moon cycle. Many individuals, again globally, will feel the freedom and right to take action toward their idea of freedom they are privy to. New projects which signify freedom are launched. Mars will ingress Aries a few hours after the new Moon and the individual will feel the tank being filled. Jupiter transits Libra since last fall indicating some partnerships will be challenged, some supported, by those who are suddenly taking independent actions. Some newly formed partnerships will likely be educated on what this new relationship really means. Some previously not noticed within a newly formed partnership may suddenly be revealed, the real motivations are revealed by actions. Saturn's ongoing transit through Sagittarius indicates rules of social conduct are being suggested or enforced. The partnerships of some will be redefined as some boundaries are mutually stated, in some cases this will destroy the partnership, yet it can also build it. Underlining the social rumblings and the need for rules or boundaries in partnerships is the ongoing transit of Pluto in Capricorn. This is huge as it indicates, what we assumed to be the structure of a physical world, being completely destroyed and repackaged as another new or different world. If things are too unreal then you are noticing Pluto's power and effect. Significant for this Aquarius Moon cycle is the connection between ruling planet Saturn transiting Sagittarius who's ruling planet Jupiter is transiting Libra and currently opposing Aquarius ruling planet Uranus. New partnerships, or any social relationship really, would benefit greatly through the process of knowing our world is in a state of utter change and that relationships active now are assisting the individual in finding stability in a world where absolute truth has gone by.

02 Sunday January 29th - Moon enters Pisces 11:11 AM

As an individual becomes intent on being clear about where security comes from or how their comfort can be assured they will be challenged to deal with beliefs which seem to deify reason or deify sensibility. A need to acquire or align with security, as in financial security, requires an understanding as to what others in the public realm believe to be real. The sorting of beliefs can bring up things like spirituality, or bring up compassion, how individuals calibrate their compassion and empathy relative to how they go after their security. The need to honor and respect one's beliefs about such things, like compassion or religious belief, can come into play as ideas as to how security must be acquired is explored. One way to deal with this is to exploit the beliefs of society in a way that their beliefs are respected such as allowing oneself or others to express their ideas and beliefs as in artistic expression, fashion design, film making, music creation, painting, or some form of production which depicts these beliefs. Those who can remain objective and allow others their beliefs and their expression without feeling threatened by them can benefit in many ways. Whether providing materials or services an attitude of acceptance in terms of allowing others to explore and express their beliefs can become personal in ways not expected. Many will demand their right to express their version of things as has been going on for sometime. Some way of finding one's self in these beliefs, even if they are not directly one's own is valuable. For some reason beliefs not typically one's own are in their social experience and as such must be dealt with it, it is for some good reason that this is happening. What is this reason?

03 Tuesday January 31st - Moon enters Aries 4:48 PM

The courage to speak up and be specific about what is appropriate is called for in the midst of social confusion. An urge to be impulsive can be higher today. The feeling some action needs to be taken can happen suddenly, a surprise or reaction from another can occur. An unresolved issue related to an assumed necessary action can return to bump one into taking action. This action may be the result of a decision which was not made and now the decision is made via the action. This is a good time to remember that anger and fear are connected, you cannot have anger without fear, nor can you have fear without anger. Mars's recent Aries ingress on January 28th is now emotionally charged with the Moon's Aries ingress. Ideally the individual will have their self acceptance somewhat intact and benefit from the actions they take with courage and confidence. This can be just the right time to go after something which has been previously carefully considered. Again there is an added impulsive energy in the air and so it makes sense to come into this time being well grounded and steady. The way to be grounded and steady is to be good with the Earth, to acknowledge her and to respect her. Feel the connection between one's own body. Know your body is the Earth and your sensuality is her dynamic sense of love and interconnection in action. Such an affiliation with the Earth will yield a steadiness and sense of comfort where one feels they belong. Once this is in place within the individual their impulsive urges will be congruent with a harmonic which follows this steadiness and comfort pattern, everything is mutually supported.

04 Thursday February 2nd - Moon enters Taurus 8:51 PM

Venus ingress Aries Friday February 3rd 10:52 AM

After what may have been a dynamic couple of days a change to seeking calm can be expected. The feeling that one needs to pay attention to their basic security becomes the focus. A need to settle things down at home or to find security at home may be of more interest. Seeing oneself in charge may also occur as a need for clarity and boundaries is called for, especially if work related issues are affecting things at home. If there is any recklessness in one's social dynamics it is now that the home base comes into play to balance things out or to allow one to recede slightly from public dynamic and get one's bearings. A love of imagined realities or imagined agendas or imagined outcomes, can be the cause of certain recent difficulties. An ability to keep things in balance would be useful. Turns there are astro alignments which have been assisting with clarity and balance and they have been occurring since November 2015, and are set to recede in mid May. So now there is still huge opportunity to balance one's imagination with what is actually happening, what one must realistically deal with. The place where things can be really dominate is health issues. Health issues occurring during this window are most certainly about balancing fantasy with physical reality. The advantage here while the Moon transits Taurus is to feel the need for security and steadiness while still being able to explore ideas and concepts which are not bounded by limiting beliefs. For example the way things are now socially, both community and global community, are not static, we are in the midst of change, the way things are now will only be like this temporarily. So where will be down the road say next year or in five or ten years or more? Considering that we are within a fleeting moment of change we may make different choices, choices which allow our future self to have a say in what we do today. This is a good time to seek steadiness and comfort at home and with our relationship with the Earth and to allow ourselves to see a bigger picture as to where we are and where we are going.

05 Saturday February 4th - Moon enters Gemini 11:45 PM

Jupiter retrograde Monday February 6th 1:54 AM

Conversation will be focused and clear, well at least this is what some will want and expect. Frivolous conversation, or off topic tangents may be called out. Ideally the individual will take the time to observe both their inner and outer dialogue. To identify their specific character or identity what they presume about them self relative to this dialogue. Some may feel attacked by words or feel pressured by what another says. Remember words are not stones and one can easily say they are of a different opinion and allow words and thoughts which differ from one's own to be another's and not their own. In other words when something which is said is not to one's liking simple give them the space they need to experience whatever belief and do not get overly involved with them, at least for the time being. Some may even shift from inner to outer dialogue and back again and not know it, the conversation they are having with another is really with themselves. We can also see this affect in texting or email where the intent of communication is really aimed at one's self. Face to face communication is typically more real in terms of a spontaneous energy exchange between individuals, of course this depends on the specific individuals involved and their emotional tie to what is discussed. Those who share the same project and share similar beliefs in general can have an enjoyable experiences as well as there can be pleasant moments when teaming up and sharing notes. If a meeting is going well perhaps it is a good time to discuss the state of change which is affecting the shared plan or project. It is important for those working together to be able to talk about and share their ideas as they, together, navigate the changing social and public systems. The Moon in Gemini will cause a shaper than usual need for communications to remain focused, this works well for an evolved individual who's high integrity and honesty are well practiced.

06 Tuesday February 7th - Moon enters Cancer 2:04 AM

Mercury ingress Aquarius Tuesday February 7th 4:36 AM

Social situations may call for an increased understanding as to how one feels and how those one is relating to feel. This feeling concern is heightened now as the Moon transits Cancer. It may appear that some need to be comforted more than usual or that others are more parental or warmer, or perhaps cooler, in their demeanor. There is an urge to see social situations as family situations. Things like "we at work here are like family" or to be involved with work mates outside work as if you are related in a closer way than the social situation or contact, which is the reality of one's association, would suggest. Being warm or close to work or social relations is nice and pleasant yet realistically is it really the same as the rich and perhaps intense relationship one has with their family? Really this is a time when many can feel a deeper connection with those they know socially and publicly than they typically would feel. An individual's specific responsibilities can be sorted out as they become clear as to what is a personal responsibility and what is a social responsibility. A need to be clear about what is a personal responsibility may be called for and this may mean letting go of some social activity or interaction which is distracting the individual from being domestically or personally responsible. There can be huge changes going on socially, things may be in a dynamic state of flux, if this is the case why not back off the social activity for a day or two and get things right at home? This may mean connecting to family members or simple doing some extra house work. Ideally the individual will find the opportunity to demonstrate that they are personally responsible for them self as a first priority and be socially responsible as a second priority.

07 Thursday February 9th - Moon enters Leo 4:42 AM

Full Moon lunar eclipse in Leo Friday February 10th 7:34 PM

Being socially supportive can mean being involved in group activities group events by sharing group beliefs, by acting as if there is a common belief holding everything together. The King or the Queen or the Champion of this forging belief is like the seed for an agreed upon accepted social paradigm. Who is held in admiration as the source belief for the social common ground the individual is agreeing to? The Moon in Leo fleshes out this identity. It may not be a specific person although it typically is, even if this individual has long departed, has passed on. Their vision is sustained, a social culture a social vision a social paradigm is constantly recreated. For an individual to be free from the constraint of this paradigm they must believe in their own significance. It is this feeling, of being significant, that the Leo Moon transit can trigger. Some may disdain current social modes, or some may embrace them beyond typical acceptance, either way it is the humming and buzzing of one's Leo energy and Leo affiliation which is occurring. The full Moon will potentially trigger emotional reactions related to one's individual significance relative to what is currently socially in play in terms of shared social beliefs. The need for external validation of one's position within a social cliché for example may feel emotionally charged, more than typical. The fire sign Aries is very active right now and as Leo is also a fire sign we may see some of this emotion triggering, as to who is who, translate into spontaneous actions. Demonstrations as to who is who can suddenly occur. Ideally the individual will pursue their own passion and inspiration and allow this to be significant. In doing so they may be an example to others and as such become admirable in the hearts and minds of others however this admiration must be known as the by-product of the individual's integrity and their fame a somewhat indifferent outcome of their integrity in action.

08 Saturday February 11th - Moon enters Virgo 8:53 AM

This can be an important Moon transit as the value of one's social relationship can be revealed. An even greater opportunity perhaps exists in gaining a clarity which can lead to a significant health improvement if such is desired. In terms of partnership the ability to accept and admire another and have this respect authentically reciprocated can have the added benefit of leading the partnership to a new and valuable clarity. An ability to be clear and precise exist for some partnerships. This means the ability to steer clear of delusional interference which is in play and if relevant likely experienced mutually. There has been aggressive action energy on the move recently and continues now. The challenge may be to find a higher road to achieve one's aim. This a good time to share ideas however it may be challenging to accept what each other considers nonsense. Health issues can also be given good attention and real solutions understood. Again the need to reduce imaginary truths from one's life and to bring in clarity is important and the opportunity to do so here. Truth here can be considered from the perspective of health, or getting the opinion of one's body. How our body reacts to what we eat and consume, to how we entertain ourselves, to how we commit to work, to how we move or are physical, all things are important. Some way of noticing how our body responds to our decisions and actions is very important. There are many ways to check in with our body and to get our body's opinion if you will. Ideally the individual will embrace their body as if their body is very valuable to them, realistically our body is always our most valuable thing to have ownership over. Our body responds to our attention our love and it is a good idea to give our body this type of attention on a regular basis.

09 Monday February 13th - Moon enters Libra 3:44 PM

The value of partnerships to take individuals to new ideas and discoveries is like a dividend or reward for integrity in relationship. Bigger opportunities than dreamed can be formulating as they are direct extensions of a harmonious partnership in action. An ability for those mutually involved in an inspired project to remain impeccable clear and realistic allows them now to discover how they as individuals are also quite alike, alike in ways perhaps not expected. This similarity of character and integrity opens a new and special opportunity to expand even further their horizons as partners. Ideas considered perhaps pleasant or interesting may in the past been considered not doable now look like they have a realistic potential. Individuals who are able to sharpen and stretch their realism to light up new areas of their potential have likewise been able to effectively dismiss delusions and thus make space for real and viable realities. It is to note that our world has not just changed, it is in a state of dynamic change, there is more to come. As this occurs it is only reasonable to consider things not formulated in the past can now be substantiated and created, brought into being. The space made by dismissing and removing one's attention and expectation from long notions of promise yet never able to deliver is a big part of the current new discoveries partners as individuals can make. New career ideas for example may be begun and the seeds planted, a new future is on the way.

10 Thursday February 16th - Moon enters Scorpio 1:42 AM

Sun ingress Pisces Saturday February 18th 6:32 AM

The idea and feeling that we need to be respectful of the Earth is an important one. The idea that we are employed by Spirit and that we are assigned to work with the Earth, to be steward for this Earth can formulate for the individual a powerful stance. We can feel the comfort of being grounded and the realism of her practicality which extends through us assisting and affecting our routine choices. A huge benefit of respectfully considering the Earth on a daily regular basis is the common awareness of sharing and being mutually supportive with all organic life. As we consider our journey since the new Moon on January 27th we can feel the need to be friendly to the organic truth of the Earth. Our value, perhaps via our profession or trade, brings us to this feeling awareness, that we are creatures which survive because we share. Hoarding and greed are busted when those who have been drawn into this distortion realize they are provided for by forces and energies far more powerful than those who would incorrectly define our value or control our wealth. There are huge changes occurring on the Earth and to human societies, all organic societies really, and this will continue, its not over yet. As things change we may feel greed is being busted and truth being revealed as the greedy are fleshed out of their hiding places. One may feel the depth of their commitment whatever their interest and their intention apply to. The matter in which the individual is consciously aware that their commitment is of value to others and that their inspiration and commitment includes being respectful of the Earth greatly increases their insight and intuition. As a basic platform or foundational grounding our love and respect of the Earth will act as a central pillar from which our human happiness and fulfillment can grow and expand. Our ability to feel this and to anchor our sensuality to Earth's integrity may be increased as the Moon transits Scorpio and we choose to acknowledge her.

11 Saturday February 18th - Moon enters Sagittarius 1:53 PM

For those seeking financial security a need to be practical and realistically clear is called for. There are so many ideas or beliefs about what is real or what is workable yet we are in the midst of busting or least correcting ideas which are not practical in the sense of leading to security. A need to be realistic about foundational security is important now because there is such a rich degree of imagined truths currently occurring. These truths all have their value, there is no doubt, yet it is unwise to confuse or over assume their value in terms of creating personal security. If an individual has some inspired idea as to how to increase security this is good. Make sure it is doable in terms of how it will socially integrate, consider the idea from several perspectives. Partnership dynamics can heat up as well, this can lead to action and getting things going or it could be overly aggressive as well leading to a less useful destructive event. There is an opportunity to see how a partnership meant for public or business success is turning out. There may be unexpected community or social events challenging the partnership. This can be like a meeting of worlds where different beliefs must find harmony or they will collide in a way where all could to some degree suffer unwanted outcomes. Something outside one's normal and regular way of thinking can come along and so it is how this new thing is treated which will be the determining factor. Many will be most concerned about their public image or reputation yet this may not be their best approach. Perhaps the best approach would be to examine ones own beliefs and seek and intend harmony if unexpected intentions from others come into play.

12 Tuesday February 21st - Moon enters Capricorn 2:09 AM

Some may have found in the last few days their brilliant ideas were replaced, or consumed, or blocked, by the need for someone to be recognized. Or perhaps inspired ideas ran into unexpected challenges that involved the need for another to be publicly or socially significant. Public and social systems, the infrastructure of communities locally and globally, are changing and so it can be expected to some extent that something previously in place is now not there or is less functional. If certain individuals feel the quality of their public value changing they can become concerned. It is all connected, changing systems are not only affecting the grandness of some peoples reputation it is also affecting authority models. We can see this in business or in government in social realms and in local communities. The leader who is attached to a past functioning system, for example, may be less effective now. The natural progression of things can not be stopped and this is ripping up some truths which some considered absolute. The idea now as this change to our beliefs and our world continues is to not panic but to feel the need for this change, to find perspectives which make sense of a changing world. Those who enjoy discovery and change in a fearless way have something, perhaps it is a bigger picture which includes current unpredictability and yet also includes a clean Earth and future calm. For now it is wise to accept these unexpected changes and allow one's world to be progressed to a new future by navigating changes with the inspiration of an explorer discovering a new world.

13 Thursday February 23rd - Moon enters Aquarius 12:18 PM

Mercury ingress Pisces Saturday February 25th 6:08 PM

Since the new Moon on January 27th this Aquarius Moon cycle may be a rather unexpected or strange experience. Unexpected in how the public is reacting to what they believe is occurring and strange in that ideas and beliefs of others, perhaps one's own, seem really out there. The Aquarius influence is to be accepting and thus open minded. Nothing is too far out, or is it? As we move toward the Pisces Moon cycle, begins Sunday February 26th, it may feel like an ocean trip complete with swimming around in a vast emotional world where ideas are known or significant because of the way one feels about them. Ideas will turn to feelings, everything turns into feelings. For now as we experience the last couple days of the Aquarius Moon cycle we may want to seal the insights in some unforgettable place, things like witnessing how delusional absolutes have been out played by the need to find personal foundation in some bigger picture of reality. The idea of who we are, who you are, socially may have been played out in some way as well. Also the need for reputation concerns to be the perspective for making decisions and creating boundaries may have also been revealed. When the absolute type beliefs are shattered the house of cards can be seen and the identities and their correlating reputations revealed as fleeting. There is a bigger truth and as such a bigger you. Aquarius allows us as a humanity to see beyond locally accepted paradigms and to glimpse toward these bigger knowings and truth. As a repeating note here, there is a potential for sudden aggressive acts by those who feel their social situation warrants it, some newly found relationships may be in some sort of crack down mode. As always intend safety and be self responsible for what one draws to ones self.

14 Saturday February 25th - Moon enters Pisces 7:25 PM

The impulsive quality of humans has been on the rise for several years now and here in this coming Moon cycle we see this impulsive nature getting additional boost. Before taking brave aggressive action make sure what you are justifying it on is well qualified. Such consideration can be challenging as the feeling one needs to move on their wants and desires is quite spontaneous and impulsive. The thing individual's have been in the habit of believing, their typical and ongoing beliefs, will translate into their actions. If these beliefs are based on data that lacks congruency the individual can very likely meet up with restrictions upon taking action. Ideally the individual will have figured out, at some earlier point, their beliefs manifest around them as experiences and that their actions will be in harmony. Different actions by the individual will be in harmony with each other even if they are separate and different actions. If an individual however has isolated beliefs which are not in harmony then the transpiring actions will also be in discord. Evolving one's beliefs from a single foundational belief will orchestrate their actions as if their seed belief is a hidden conductor. Ideally the individual will have a healthy respect for what is realistically possible in terms of what they can physical do, or what lies in the physical world where their actions will be greeted. That being said there is an urge to have one's fantasies extended into the physical world through actions. The world is flexible and thoughts create yet to participate in the world with the creative force of manifesting one's passions and inspiration integrity and congruency must be established within the individual.

Soulstar Astrology Appointments

Soulstar Astrology readings are based on the belief that thought creates. Our experiences and most especially our difficulties can be framed as opportunities to evolve toward one's higher plan. As humanity has, in the last several years and continuing now, been through identity discernment a questioning as to where one is headed and who the self is that is headed there may occur. The understanding of a particular identity will correlate with particular astrological alignments and planetary placements. Personal astrology charts show us how things are connected from a vast perspective. Knowing these connections and perspectives opens the door for more choices. Astrology works well with dates and so consider keeping a record or make a note of specific dates in which some major dynamic have occurred.
