

PATHFINDER report

New Moon September 18th 2009 2:45 PM EST

Report number 79

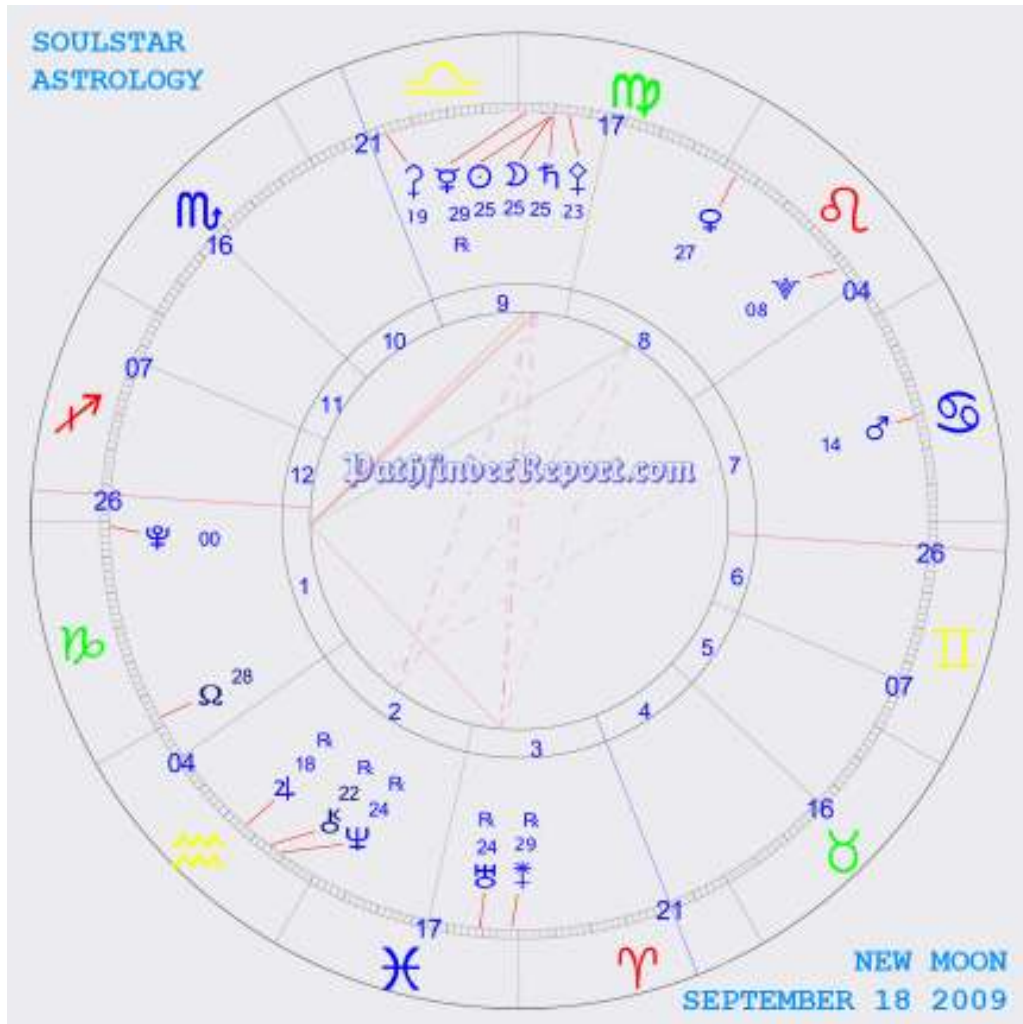

New Moon Friday September 18th 2:45 PM EST
 Venus ingress September 20th 9:33 AM
 Sun ingress Libra FALL EQUINOX September 22nd 5:20 PM
 Mercury direct September 29th 9:15 AM
 Full Moon October 4th 2:11 AM
 Jupiter direct October 13th 12:36 AM
 Dark Moon begins October 15th 11:41 PM
 Mars ingress Leo October 16th 11:33 AM
 Uranus retrograde in Pisces through out cycle
 Neptune retrograde in Pisces through out cycle next New Moon Friday October 18th 1:34 AM

Overview

Moon Beams

Fourteen Periods

New Moon Intentions

Pathfinder Report is a new Moon Astrology report intended to assist in advancing personal significance, equality and sovereignty through self observation and admission.

Overview for New Moon September 18th 2:45 PM EST

The Moon is a wonderful ally for fleshing out hidden beliefs, the one's which are able to hide so close to our experiences by slipping into the shadows of our remaining obliviousness. Knowing that thought creates, our thoughts create, we can see that life is the manipulation of matter. As we become aware of this we begin to value our experiences by admitting that we are creating them. What is significant is how we feel about our experiences, and there we have the Moon. As we expand our self awareness by riding the congruent waves of energy which flow outside of space time within our own holographic experience we reunite ourselves. We become grand, we allow more of ourselves to be present in our human experience in a most congruent and harmonious way. When our human self is ripe and ready to advance forward, ready to accept more of us into our human consciousness, we will begin to emotionally react to the way we feel in a manner which gets our attention. We discover the value of an emotional whammy. When we know our open heart as related to our will we will be asked to shine the light of our significance into the shadow of denial. When our will is ready to be increased we must allow ourselves to step out of the will of external authority and be in greater sovereignty. Self responsibility and self love increase as this is us knowing more and more about the power given to us by Creator. As the Earth, in her own evolution, moves toward expanded congruency, we, as humans, will feel this in our body. It is up to us as individuals to raise the bio mechanical feeling nature of our human self into the emotional capacity of our self awareness. In our intention to evolve and have a good time we value our feeling reaction because our feelings bring us something, they bring us the opportunity to increase ourselves. And so shall we now follow the Moon once again through her cycle.

With Saturn's conjunction to the new Moon a renewed commitment to be focused and clear will assist with implementation of whatever changes we are inspired to make. An intention to refresh or create boundaries can be considered. During the past year what have you been feeling about the quality of authorities which define and implement public and personal boundaries? Things like health care, or responsible partnership guidelines, anything which gets us to look at the manner of our rationalizing will service an opportunity for expanding awareness. Uranus, in retrograde, continues to oppose Saturn, and now is in opposition to this new Moon. Revolutionary changes in public structures will parallel the call for new formulas in analyzing and rationalizing. We may have been considering some radical changes in how we tally and figure things out, well now during this Moon cycle do not be surprised if many new methods are introduced. To make way for these new ways many old patterns will be challenged, some changed and others discarded. Asteroid Pallas Athena is opposed by Uranus as well at the moment of new Moon. This could affect eye sight and so we want to make an intention to bring our brain hemispheres into balance and intend improvement in our eye sight if such is an issue. Our ability to move our analytical approach out of linear thinking and into the geometry of holographic awareness will assist us as we experience the freedom which Uranus will insist upon us. Beliefs which affect the acceptance of particular authorities will come forward as the rules of life become more commonly known to the individual. We are ready to dismiss or cut lose what is now obviously non-functional authorities because we are indeed ready to be responsible for what we create from an evolved level of awareness. This copy taken from period one of the fourteen period cycle for the current Moon cycle.

How have we unconsciously submitted ourselves to be parental to friends and community? During this Moon cycle the search for clearly understood boundaries in both family and public relationships may be called for. As examples we may have friends which long to be nurtured by their peers or friends who want to nurturer their peers in a family way. Many portions of ourselves may be stuck in past dramas which involve family. No matter which side of the drama we may be on, we want to value and trust the process by being alert to our feelings. It may be that a community or work situation is paralleling an ongoing, unresolved, family issue. By knowing and accepting the holographic nature of our feelings and by trusting our emotional self we allow ourselves to be lead to a place which is key to expanding self awareness.

Astrological alignments in place at the moment of the new Moon
---

- New Moon conjunct Saturn
- Saturn Virgo opposite Uranus retrograde Pisces
- Mercury Virgo opposite Juno retrograde Pisces
- Jupiter retrograde Aquarius trine Ceres Libra
- Neptune retrograde Aquarius semi-sextile Uranus retrograde Pisces
- Mercury retrograde

***

ASTRO WAVES

Surfing Astrological Waves

"How can I participate in this wave of current new Moon energy and increase my clarity?"

Establishing Home Station

An ideal way to ride the waves of this current Moon cycle is to consider it in terms of establishing home station. Virgo, well known for it's connections to healing, brings us in contact with our body. A close knit affair with our body will provide just the right stuff. Our insights, our imagination, our impulse, our spontaneity, all these things and more will be made relevant to our equality, an equality implied by our very existence and presence here in this grand shared reality. For this particular Moon cycle, which began on September 18th 2009, an expansion of home station occurs through an increase in personal responsibilities, where these responsibilities have social ties. Ideally we can choose to see the social responsibility as a parallel to our personal responsibility. We do not want the social responsibility to replace our personal responsibility. As we expand our personal awareness and are able to see life as holographic we can see that our responsibilities have layers. In our awareness we begin to find the congruency between these layers. We do this by trusting and valuing our feelings, our feelings know the holographic integrity of our grand existence. When we trust our feelings we allow ourselves to connect to the most intimate and personal portions of ourselves. It is these portions that ride the congruent connections within our holographic self. Astrologically there is a huge opportunity now to feel the parallels between our personal responsibilities, our personal health, and the social responsibilities which parallel this. As always we want to remember to get our body's opinion and to put our home station as a first priority. Doing so magic will happen and our social responsibilities will come into an effortless and joyful order.

Discovering

The opportunity to discovery new foundations for ourselves increases now as the new Moon in Virgo supports our courage to adventure into new unexploded areas. This may well be a rediscovery, as in memories being brushed off. These new discoveries, or returning memories, will be different this time as they will be anchored to thoughts, ideals, or beliefs. The feelings returning can now be made sense of as paralleling thoughts mutually support and reinforce each other. It may be felt as a return of innocence, a recognition as to how our innate bio intelligence extends symbiotically out into a natural world. A new way of looking at and comprehending the joy felt establishes a foundation where stability is insured by the choice an individual makes to honor and acknowledge her, Gaia. This great joy will be related to the foundation and stability given to us by our Earth Mother. As we acquire expanded awareness as to who we are a return of our sensual connections to our organic earthly interconnections merges and integrates within us. Our ideals, our beliefs, are altered, refreshed, such that they, at all times, include the awareness of where stability and foundation in the most clearly understood way, comes from. To support this take a nature walk, a spirit walk, with the intention of merging with nature. Allow your sensual self to merge with nature. What supports this astrologically, or parallels this, is the mutual inception of Uranus and Neptune, where they are in each others home sign. In other words Earth is restoring her experience as a galactic and universal family member, certainly humanity will be called to apart of this.

Nurturing Impulse

In the expression "We Are One" is the commitment to accept each other. With this Virgo Moon cycle, this we are one will be felt in a domestic way. Social nurturing, nurturing friends and being nurtured by others, expresses the commitment to oneness. As we become aware of this, it becomes prudent to be aware that family has it's own boundaries and rules. When friends want to nurture you in Virgo style you can feel the quality of boundaries which are being respected. Or if you are being nurturing to friends you can choose to acknowledge mutually acceptable boundaries. Either way we stand to discover and perhaps adjust the way we involve ourselves in nurturing dynamics with our friends, or the public. Just like a family has well considered boundaries so to will our social family. What are these boundaries, are they implied, or spoken? If these boundaries have not been mutually understood then what will be the ramifications, where will the social harmony go? Forwarding one's personal family boundaries into the public experience of a social family may occur, or has occurred, in a manner which was not common to those on the receiving end. Or expectation of what oneness meant to one individual differed to that of another. As we experience this Virgo Moon cycle we can choose to become advanced in our sense of social harmony by allowing ourselves to feel the domestic quality of social interaction while at the same time respecting how this nurturing quality and it's boundaries is understood and acted out by others.

Social Action

As noted earlier Virgo energy dynamics express a social nurturing quality. This, ideally, is a warm and comforting experience. As Mars continues its transit through Cancer we can expect that the impulse to go for this sort of social nurturing will be higher than normal. Also, astrologically speaking, the south node is now in Cancer. The inertia established by past ideals and patterns will be asserting themselves in social interactions. In some cases this will affect community, where some may feel a need to correct or insert some form of family values. To keep this Cancer energy in harmony, to maintain balance when the urge to become nurturing becomes aggressive, we look to the Capricorn structure which defines and qualifies the purpose of the impulse. In other words we want to feel the plan, the goal, of the impulse. The nurturing impulse acted upon will imply some form of domestic value system. If you experience the influx of nurturing impulse in a social environment you can choose to use your feeling center and feel the implied belief system which sources the impulse. Social structures are just now beginning what will turn out to be a decade of transformation, and so we will likely see the beginnings of this now. What social structure will be tested for their current relevancy? What future world do you see yourself preferring to participate in? To make sure these things are looked at we will be shown any unknown beliefs which we currently hold which are defining and regulating our social experience. The ideal here then is to make these things known. If we are involved in any sort of social drama involving structure, especially if this structure has to do with nurturing, as in regulated health care, food supply, or home utilities, then we want to simply ask ourselves, what is this situation causing me to experience? What is the situation causing me to feel? What unknown belief do I hold which is affecting my future? When we feel something strongly, react strongly, we are given the opportunity to flesh out our directive, a directive which perhaps if we were made aware of it we would rewrite it.

Clairvoyant Experiences

As we become more evolved in our sovereignty by directing and allowing the mutation of our DNA we become more resilient in the use of our will. The channels from which clairvoyant signals are received can be either directed to be opened or closed. Just like owning a number of radios each tuned to a specific radio station we receive the signals from outside of our immediate self awareness. Many channels have been established at our command perhaps unknowingly. If these channels are left open we will receive their signals. This can be received as a feeling of concern over something, an influence which causes us to emotionally react in some way. If allowed it can affect our choices by influencing our will. Some of these influences are beginning to be shown to us from an expanded perceptual self awareness. As clairvoyant experiences continue to increase we become aware of what frequencies, or radio stations, we have set ourselves up to receive. We can choose to close the channel simply by commanding it. Such is the privilege of a bio being, a human being. If one is unable to do so it is because of the giving over of the will. There are many things which can testify to this. All of them will have to do with accepting an external authority over one's own personal authority. Entities will ride the open channels. Sometimes we may be interested in their drama, other times not. The good news is that it is for us to decide. During this Moon cycle if there is an increase in external influences and clairvoyant experiences, the likelihood is that the open channel will be related to nurturing. Partners will pick up each others boldness especially if the partners are sharing values in some way. If you are feeling anxious in some way, not at your best, consider commanding a clearing of all astral energies, command it. Then notice how you feel. Has your anxiousness dissipated? We may be calling astral energies into our open channels unknowingly. To have command over ourselves we must pay attention to the notions of self we invest in. We want to discover any hidden external authority our self definition implies as this will correlate with an open channel. Once we get the hang of it we begin to take charge of our channel status by exercising our will. We can send and receive signals etherically in the most joyful way.

Spontaneous Expression

Insights are on the increase as is our personal and spiritual awareness. Such is the natural outcome of our advancing awareness. Here in this Virgo Moon cycle we may become excited as we discover and become aware of new ways to organize and structure our lives, as individuals, and as a society. Inspired and excited about the value of boundaries gives us the big wave on which to experience and enjoy the radical now. If we are not wanting to change then we may have some of this wave splashed into our lives as surely many will choose the joy of inspired changes. The spontaneous expression then will be in the area of directing or reforming rules plans or guideline. These will most definitely have community aspects. Excited about reforming our regulations, new political ideas, new ways to create fair social entitlement, all these things will be driven by inspired individuals who will be too excited to remain aloof. As for our personal experience we can allow ourselves to become inspired with some new regulations for ourselves or for our immediate relations. We may decide to change some behavior which is directly connected to our health, our finances, our social involvement, our work, or whatever. What could yield benefit from an upgraded plan? This as you may guess is very Capricorn in nature, the inspired Capricorn that is. Know that Pluto will be in Capricorn for some time, and so if you are getting a whiff of good sense in terms of making some new rules for yourself go for it now. Your future self may be very pleased that you did so.

***

MOON BEAMS

What does this Virgo Moon Cycle have in store?

The Moon as our most potent Earth satellite receives and beams signals which can and do affect our feelings. The idea is to become aware of this process and create opportunities simply by harmonizing our intentions with these collective interacting signals. Moon Beams is a list of topics which are addressed relative to the current Moon cycle. Descriptions are simplified such that they can act as a summary. Moon Beams can be seen as examples as to how challenges can be re-framed as opportunity. Are there energies which are being sent from the Moon which collectively mirror human anxiety? In any case negativity, as a perspective, is turned to opportunity when we choose to see each challenge as a set-up. Signals from this massive satellite do indeed affect our personal feelings. With the intention to evolve our own personal self awareness we can begin to see where we are caught in shared patterns which demonstrate the obliviousness or denial of our greater self. With Moon Beams a potential control pattern is revealed and a correlating elevating perspective shared.

Home:

Control Element: I need to be strong and direct with my family and not give in to their emotional needs, I need to provide strength and direction in times of major changes.

Opportunity: By intending to discover the parallel between our body, our home station, and our actual living residence, we discover not only who the boss of ourselves is, we discover who the boss of the home is. With Uranus opposite Saturn and opposite the new Moon those who see themselves as the rule makers of the home or family will be challenged to break out of any emotionless character they may have taken on and evolve their approach to assisting others, in the harmony they want to achieve. Many relationship dynamics will be called now for evolution and adjustment and so we can expect the 3d world, the apparent solid world, to bring forward the necessary events such that the opportunity, the feeling self, can be accessed. As the energy increases and the drama unfolds it is a good idea to break through the emotionless facade and begin allowing so called weakness to be seen in it's higher capacity, as access to an expanding self knowing. After all those who pertain to a non feeling demeanor are actually quite feeling, you can feel this in them and it is possibly ready to come forward. As our body parallels our evolution we do not want to stand in the way by having our ego lock into patterns of behavior borrowed from a separation paradigm. One way or the other we will be called to feel and if we are unable to move our ego into other choices we can count on our body to humble us in it's own way. There may be periods of flux and uncertainty and the rules which govern our home are not so clear. At such time we can trust that our inner integrity, our honoring of our sacred space our body, is being allowed to harmonically extend itself and affect the unfoldment of our evolving domestic setting.

Intention: I allow the harmony and integrity in body to extend out into my home.

Romance:

Control Element: Our marriage has experienced some traumatic events which are impossible to resolve so I have created a new career life for myself which will provide me the mental space to rationalize my pain.

Opportunity: Public life may embrace our inspiration and yet is is our more private personal connection with that special someone which leads us toward shared creative expressions and spiritual discoveries. We become involved in an intimate sharing at the deepest levels of our being. When we experience this sharing and it is taken away it causes us to feel something. However nothing is really taken away and it is this awareness which leads us to follow and trust our feelings. Public and social influences which cause us to rationalize our experience may seem to give us a way to avoid feeling something. The value of the whole experience, the set-up if you will, is shown in our feeling experience. We can follow the rational approach if we choose and yet where will it lead? At best it will explain things away. Where did they go? The pain at some point will return. Our emotional vulnerability is truly the key to our spiritual discovery and awakening. The integrity of our emotional self will challenge us to look and bust our logic, shed our rationalizing, if only we can trust it. We trust our romantic feelings in the beginning, allow them to lead us into our intimacy and sharing, so why not trust them when we experience traumatic events?

Intention: I am trusting my emotional vulnerability as if it is the key to self discovery.

Money:

Control Element: Everybody knows that sex sells.

Opportunity: Selling the illusion of intimacy has been and continues to be common place within a separation paradigm. Creating an income for oneself by following this strategy reveals the absence of one's true self in their career. When we consider that our gifts are Creator's gifts to others we reverse this notion. We are not absent, we are present, in the moment. We allow our career path to parallel our personal inspiration. Whenever a product or service attempts to appeal to our most basic sexual nature we can take a moment to look for the presence of the inspiration which is driving this marketing. What will we find? Absence? When manifesting an income through our profession it is our personal inspiration which finds it's public parallel. Whether or not it appeals to the public's passion that is their business. It is our business to trust that our passion for our work will have it's fit, it's value to those who are interested in acquiring it. Depending upon our intention for this Virgo Moon cycle we will be able to observe how a need for money distorts relationship clarity. How do we feel about this? To free our creative self and allow this creative self to inspire the public through our career we first must recover any of our essence which is caught in this distortion. The authorities we want to have revealed to us are those which have been hidden from our immediate attention. We do this by simply allowing ourselves to feel the authentic inspiration behind the product or service. As we do this with what is being marketed to us we can not help but get clarity on the quality of our own inspiration.

Intention: I allow my gifts to be Creator's gifts to others.

Health:

Control Element: These bumps and bruises wouldn't stop me, I know what I want and who I have to impress to get it.

Opportunity: We will always have the child like quality of being excited and going after those things that inspire our enthusiasm simply by remembering and intending to have a good time. There is a development of our maturity which occurs as we gain experience with living and being our most cherished self. In the past a period of inspired expression may have been acknowledged and cheered by an authority. The euphoria of this grand experience is not forgotten. As we attempt to relive the thrill, a good thing indeed, we want to pay attention as to how we associate it's 3d manifestation. This will bring our attention as to how we use our ego to lock into a particular version of reality. In our maturity we pay particular attention to our body, our health. Also our growing and developing maturity will have us moving into our sovereignty. And it is here where we are becoming increasingly clear as to which beliefs we hold which require external validation. For example, if we look at the initial occurrence of our treasured experience we will likely notice that the approval of our expression was more the by-product of a shared experience as opposed to what motivated us in the first place. As we intend to manifest inspired experiences we will not be hy-jacked by external validation. Instead of injuring ourselves we remember to always include our body in our ambition agenda. We can do this in our meditation, where we flow through the actions, introducing our intentions to our body. Always we want to prioritize the cooperation our body gives us as indeed our body will naturally align with our most authentic inspiration and it's correlating expression.

Intention: I am loving my body, we work together in harmony and cooperation.

Discovery:

Control Element: I am now going to receive acknowledgement from an accepted social establishment because I am able to stir up the public and get them to question the integrity of this establishment.

Opportunity: By implying that some social establishment misrepresents the public our interest in reforming the social environment for the working class may lead us to discover a collective denial the public holds, which manifests as the establishment. Everyone always gets exactly what they need in order to evolve, such is the nature of existence. Are we directing our creative inspiration to assist and free the public or are we wanting to get the attention of an established authority because we want to be acknowledged by this authority? What would possibly motivate an individual to stir up the public? What personal motive is there? Perhaps the rebel rouser will discover these things. As our bodies evolve we are able to both catch and send more data. Our ability to congruently stretch out an electromagnetic identity provides Spirit and ourselves with an expanded reach. We set up electromagnetic patterns which act as versions of reality which others step into. Of course it is their free will and choice to do so. As more individuals come into the awareness of achieving personal sovereignty the structures, as in social establishments, will have diminishing options within the separation paradigm as this paradigm moves toward collapse. The changes we make to our social infrastructure will thus be the by-product of our personal commitment to be self responsible as creative beings. Right now, as this is a Virgo Moon cycle, the opportunity to discover comes via our acceptance and acknowledgement of Mother Earth. The foundation and stability of her presence within our human bio-integrity provides the individual with a steadiness. This steadiness becomes a platform for our electromagnetic reach.

Intention: I am discovering how much power I am acquiring for myself simply by loving myself and acknowledging Mother Earth.

***

Fourteen Period Format

The Pathfinder Report follows the Moon through fourteen periods in 29 days beginning on the new Moon. The Fourteen periods, or phases, follow the Moon's journey through the entire Moon cycle. Each period will have a particular flavor or tone and is interpreted here as a unique opportunity. The first period begins at the moment of new Moon and continues until the Moon's first ingress. The Moon will ingress into the next zodiac sign thirteen times yielding fourteen unique periods. A theme unique to the complete Moon cycle is also included. As each individual's journey and process is a unique personal adventure this report is to be considered a generalization. In some cases example scenarios are given to assist in providing clarity as to how specific astro alignments may be experienced.

01 Friday September 18th - New Moon in Virgo 2:45 PM

As we begin this Virgo new Moon cycle we want to have our intentions and goals clearly defined and ready to be affirmed and loved into manifestation. We can do this now. With Saturn's conjunction to the new Moon a renewed commitment to be focused and clear will assist with implementation of whatever changes we are inspired to make. An intention to refresh or create boundaries can be considered. During the past year what have you been feeling about the quality of authorities which define and implement public and personal boundaries? Things like health care, or responsible partnership guidelines, anything which gets us to look at the manner of our rationalizing will service an opportunity for expanding awareness. Uranus, in retrograde, continues to oppose Saturn, and now is in opposition to this new Moon. Revolutionary changes in public structures will parallel the call for new formulas in analyzing and rationalizing. We may have been considering some radical changes in how we tally and figure things out, well now during this Moon cycle do not be surprised if many new methods are introduced. To make way for these new ways many old patterns will be challenged, some changed and others discarded. Asteroid Pallas Athena is opposed by Uranus as well at the moment of new Moon. This could affect eye sight and so we want to make an intention to bring our brain hemispheres into balance and intend improvement in our eye sight if such is an issue. Our ability to move our analytical approach out of linear thinking and into the geometry of holographic awareness will assist us as we experience the freedom which Uranus will insist upon us. Beliefs which affect the acceptance of particular authorities will come forward as the rules of life become more commonly known to the individual. We are ready to dismiss or cut lose what is now obviously non-functional authorities because we are indeed ready to be responsible for what we create from an evolved level of awareness.

02 Friday September 18th - Moon enters Libra 9:27 PM

Venus ingress September 20th 9:33 AM

Our Libra experience, our Libra energy, comes from our partnership experiences. As we accept that humanity springs from the Earth we are accepting that we, our partner included, spring from the Earth. When we experience a partnership and feel the goddess energy of our partner we are connecting to Gaia's symbiosis through the partnership experience. This Moon cycle we can choose to discover some new foundations, where stability lives, simply by accepting the symbiosis between Earth and humanity. This discovery will lend us a passport into compassion and bliss, a Virgo relationship attribute. Partnership experienced outside this stability will cause collusions in the body. We can feel the quality of our partnerships in our body. The Moon in Libra now will bring up the feelings which correlate with these collusions. By including the Earth in all our partnerships we step up upon a new foundation where partnerships epitomize our stability. Once we have our stability we will receive much energy, action energy. When we admire another, our partner, we do not want to lose track of our own significance. If this is occurring we will know because the energy we experience, again the action energy, will be fleeting and dependant on our partner. As the Moon transits Libra we can become aware of what our body is telling us about the realism of stability and foundation we are able to extend from Gaia's symbiosis into our partnerships.

03 Monday September 21st - Moon enters Scorpio 12:53 AM

Sun ingress Libra FALL EQUINOX September 22nd 5:20 PM

The underlining feelings we, as individuals, have concerning humanities ability to share resources with love and harmony affect our ego's directives. The depth of our connection as bio-creatures includes the innate symbiosis of all organic life. We, as humans, are not separate from the Earth. In order to experience the fulfillment of our new Moon intention, in order to be independently empowered, we are asked to consider this symbiosis. If we feel robbed of entitlement, or lacking in resources, we must look at our our beliefs and the external authority they imply. Emotionally we will most certainly be given an opportunity to do so. In our astute awareness, as an evolving individual, we can choose to expand and stretch our awareness into the parallel layers of our holographic experience. Personal dramas have global proportions. As we direct our feeling attention to the multi level mutual symmetry between personal and planetary parallels by allowing ourselves to align with Mother Earth we receive an important message. This message is received with clarity when we are able to value our emotional vulnerability and trust our feelings as if our feelings are absolutely impeccable at bringing our attention to a most divine sacred place. Once we get the message we will release many fear patterns where an over bearing concern for personal survival, as in not having enough, are simply shed as there is no more investment from our essence, or from our will, to include this in our experiences. As the Moon move through Scorpio there may be a sense of urgency as in "are we there yet?". It is the empowerment of our own alignment with Mars, our action energy, we can feel so close now. We do not want to pretend we are there in order to avoid the anxiety, as it is the anxiety which is the gift from Mother Earth. What is she offering us?

04 Wednesday September 23rd - Moon enters Sagittarius 7:44 AM

We can approach our personal responsibilities with either enthusiasm or dread. It's about perspective. The quality of our perspectives is indicative of our self acceptance, our self love. Our ability to find, not just one, to find several alternative perspectives as to how to engage our responsibilities requires us to be able to stretch through the Moon. Each perspective will have a feeling signature. As we explore our choices we create and support a foundational sense of congruency within our self awareness. Here as the Moon transits Sagittarius we can choose to see beyond our public reputation as we feel our emotional reactions and bring our altitude up and witness an expanded panorama of our identity. One of the things which some may be prompted to look at within themselves is commitments to either friends or some community group where the tole on personal feelings seems to be increasing. And so where can we make this enjoyable, effortless. As we stake out our responsibilities and state our commitments, prioritize our time and energy, we feel something as we relate to each and every idea we entertain within ourselves. We can insist, and it is a good thing to do so, whatever choice and perspective we chose, we insist that it be effortless and enjoyable. To succeed in this we very well may be called to admit or own something which may have been difficult to do in the past. As we stretch our emotions through it we can feel the freedom and light on the other side. As we feel this place of joy we are there now, such is the nature of the heart. We can see our heart also as our will. As we recover our will we recover/open our heart. We become effortless in our approach to our valued responsibilities.

05 Friday September 25th - Moon enters Capricorn 6:20 PM

As the Moon transits Capricorn our new Moon intention will inspire us to take some action steps toward our goal. This may well involve a breaking free from some partnership contract, either figuratively or literally. We may feel an urgency to move forward now. The key is to allow our excitement to motivate us. A new Earth is dawning and in some way our personal agenda is riding this wave. We can expect a sense of decisiveness to drive our priority. If there has been no ambition, no motivation, within the individual previously to the Moon's transit through Capricorn then a sense of anxiety can be the result. And so it is now that we can choose to cherish our new Moon intention as it provides the platform from which practical details can be ushered into joyful action. Trusting our inspiration we are able to clear out the blockages which have staled our action in the past. In the midst of old school ideals and structures there is a new energy all around us which supports our current agenda. Relative to our new Moon intention we are moving a new or fresh sense of self admiration into real life. This will likely lead to some form of interaction with others, a communication. To be true to ourselves we will be called to hold our frequency with consistency as we move our self acceptance into action and communicate our inspired objective.

06 Monday September 28th - Moon enters Aquarius 7:08 AM

Mercury direct September 29th 9:15 AM

As the Moon moves through Aquarius we may be called to some responsibilities which involve our interactions with either friends or community. There has been much attention, astrologically, directed toward Aquarius lately as Jupiter Chiron and Neptune all retrograde continue to transit this sign. A melt down in social boundaries is a world wide occurrence and has been taking place since Neptune's ingress in 2000, and more recently the nodal axis transit which has now ended. In many cases we may be experiencing a fresh new connection with community or friends. As we follow our new Moon in Virgo intentions, we stand to discover how our intentions involve either friends or community. The Moon will show us any lingering residue to some older boundaries and class systems which had in the past defined social elitism and held specific authorities up with what appears now to be undo importance. As we allow our commitments and intentions to flow with clarity we will allow ourselves to be nurturing to the public while maintaining a balance by knowing specifically what is a personal responsibility and what is not. We can discover much about this balance by paying attention to how our body responds to our thoughts and rationalizing. As an example we may be experiencing a health condition which causes us to avoid contact with friends or community. If this is the case then we can now intend to discover where we have unknowingly allowed social responsibility to invade and superced our personal responsibilities.

07 Wednesday September 30th - Moon enters Pisces 7:27 PM

As we discover the foundational quality of our relationship with the Earth we begin to accept this in our human partnerships. We feel the presence of her, Mother Earth, the goddess presence, in our partnership experiences. Such evolved acceptance of our partner values the creative light which they shine. We begin, through our evolving passion for life, to discover the magnitude of human light and the creative power which is awakening here on Earth. Much of what is being called to be cleared now is the business like quality of linear rationalizing which has been allowed to define our human partnerships. With Uranus in Pisces along with Juno, the asteroid which can symbolize the partner, we may find the quality of freedom and appreciation we are experiencing in partnerships to be on our Moon transit agenda. With Pisces in the partnership position, relative to Virgo solar chart, beliefs which depict victim-hood will be fleshed out, especially as they relate to partnerships. Our new Moon intentions which call for clarity and evolution in our partnership experiences will serve us well as we accept the emotional triggering which depicts denial and energy blocks. Neptune, ruler of Pisces, has been in Aquarius for quite some time and so this Moon transit through Pisces may bring some confusion in what are partnership responsibilities and what is not. This confusion will also tie into health issues and socializing where our Virgo influence may either seek parental energy from friends or feel the need to project it. Either or it all comes back to clearing our holographic energy circuits and allowing human partnership energy to move the Earth goddess energy into humanities collective light via our partnership clarity.

08 Saturday October 3rd - Moon enters Aries 5:22 AM

Full Moon October 4th 2:11 AM

Where you are now, during this Moon phase, did you take a short cut to get here? Specifically we are looking at the boldness you either feel, or the lack of it you feel. This boldness, either increased or decreased, this action energy, is the result of what? Some notion supports the current quality of our sense of boldness. What qualifies the presence of our warrior self? Boldness in Virgo terms is very aware of how personal actions affect others. "Are my actions in harmony with others or is there a mini rebellion going on here?" If a short cut to boldness was taken there will likely be a lack of harmony in our energetic environment. We can count on this Moon transit through Aries to show us, in our feeling center, whether or not we have taken a short cut to our boldness.

09 Monday October 5th - Moon enters Taurus 12:34 PM

Here in this Virgo Moon cycle we qualify our self awareness within the stability of Taurus. What are we discovering about ourself awareness in terms of the stability it gifts us? As we move away from self definitions implied by a separation paradigm simply by congruently expanding our self awareness we discover things about the nature of thoughts and ideas. We discover how thoughts and ideas pertaining to beliefs, build structures, paradigms. Our expanding self awareness then will have us discovering the limitation of some typical thoughts as well as the grand avenues which open to us and parallel new thoughts. Specifically we can explore how our expanding stability implies the valuing of harmony, the valuing of partnership. As we shed external validation as the main criteria for understanding our public reputation we allow a new foundation to build around our willingness to focus on what we have in common with another. When self admiration, or the admiration of another, is outside those paradigms which imply external validation we take a giant step forward in the partnership department. As the Moon moves through Taurus feeling reactions will direct us to some of the old bricks, the old thoughts, which may remain. As we value our feelings we can flesh out where concerns for reputation were blinding us to how partnership experiences gift us with the magic of the moment.

10 Wednesday October 7th - Moon enters Gemini 5:48 PM

Being acknowledged as a professional is the testimonial of our ability to think and communicate in a directed and inspired way which is valued by our clients and customers. This value will be related to our commitment to fairness and will be apparent from the words and ideas we share. If we are touchy about what is being said, either as a customer or a working person, we can use this as opportunity. As always the Moon fleshes out our denial and now as the Moon transits Gemini, the feeling reactions will be triggered by the quality of these things. When we look at the new Moon phase we can see the ruler of both Virgo and Gemini, Mercury, is in opposition to Juno. One's sense of needing appreciation may cause them to react to something which is said or rationalized. A sense of feeling appreciated may be related to how ideals of compassion and feeling for others are heard or logically understood. If we do not feel appreciated because someone said something, as an example here, we can look honestly at ourselves and say: "ah ha I can see what has been qualifying my sense of feeling appreciated". As always we want to discover those hidden beliefs and the implied external authority which we have allowed to own us. The great thing is we will discover something about commitment and self appreciation. As there are several striking alignments which were ushered in on this new Moon, many of us will feel really good about getting down to business with our self awareness. Will this mean cutting lose some nonsense in how seek appreciation through external validation?

11 Friday October 9th - Moon enters Cancer 9:49 PM

The placement of Mars, Saturn, Pluto, and the nodal axis makes this a rather juicy transit. With Mars in Cancer, now and during the new Moon phase, established patterns of nurturing affects how we go after things. Typically this would include domestic affairs and this can certainly be relevant now. However the Virgo signature here brings into play our social connection and intermingling. How we share experience with friends will be revealed through the lens of nurturing and will likely bring forward our parental patterns. Considering an individual's interest in evolving during this time of Earth's energy acceleration we can now choose to feel our personal parental urge as an extension of Mother Earth herself. Basically the guardian or parental role helps clear and protect the space of those younger providing the undeveloped an opportunity to sense their own will. And so within the warmth and comfort of the unconditional love of parenting is also prudent rules and enforcement. As we feel and extent our connection to Mother Earth through the nurturing principal we can take this period, Moon in Cancer, to feel and find any beliefs and patterns which have to do with nurturing, as they will surely come forward through either the urge to nurture friends or the public, or the wanting and desiring to feel nurtured by friends and the public. As personalized sense of responsibilities are associated with community it will feel, for some, that it is their responsible to nurturer their community. This nurturing comes from a sense of personal responsibility and is pulled forward in order to appease a self definition related to public reputation. Much of this personal aspect will be projected out into community where social standards will be either questioned or acknowledged.

12 Monday October 12th - Moon enters Leo 1:04 AM

Jupiter direct October 13th 12:36 AM

Self significance, as projected by an individual, suggest something about their belief and acceptance of who the public are. This can be felt, and within this feeling is the data which is the description of their public. With Venus in Leo during the new Moon phase there will be much acceptance and allowing of the projected self admiration of others. We can choose to advance our attention from the compassion we feel with partners to our own inspired call to build our future by allowing the self significance we notice from others to take on global proportions. As social elitism continues to be dismantled our own personal goals may well affect, or be aligned to, a future now. We can feel this by tuning into our inspiration to be focused and on purpose in a most practical way. We joyfully allow our own self significance to take on grander proportions and ride the resonance of global changes which are accelerating, as if Earth's awakening is appealing to the inspiration of the individual. The Moon in Leo will flesh out any old residue or formulas which qualify self significance yet do not harmonize with this global wave of change. If our value distracts us from our inspiration we can choose to determine and examine what paradigms and beliefs have we been using to qualify that significance.

13 Wednesday October 14th - Moon enters Virgo 3:46 AM

Dark Moon begins October 15th 11:41 PM

As we are now deep into this Virgo Moon cycle we can direct our attention to how we feel about some specific things. Our health, our partnerships, our responsibilities, our family, our community, our friends, our career, home, the things which come to our conscious attention such that we can rationalize our feelings about them. The detail we receive is automatically processed, and so we can choose to witness the quality of our rationalizing. As we discover that our automatic rationalizing is connected with our beliefs, and our beliefs connected with our influences, and our influences connected with what we accept as authority, as our self observation reveals these mechanics of our rationalizations we do indeed discover through implication, who or what has been our authority. As Virgo is connected so closely with health, our health, assuming the body's natural state is health, we literally experience our body's opinion of our accepted authorities. This current Virgo journey will potentially show us how we allow ourselves to gloss over these authorities, normalize them into our lives. And yet our health holds a special and dear truth for us. This Virgo cycle carries many opportunities as we become objective and rational in a new evolved way.

14 Friday October 16th - Moon enters Libra 6:31 AM

Mars ingress Leo October 16th 11:33 AM

The Moon, now in Libra, brings us to the final period of the Virgo Moon cycle. Libra provides us with partnership experiences which reflect our body's inner integrity. Our Virgo journey is about to be externalized through partnership experience. What have we discovered during this current Moon cycle, about our health, our boundaries, our life's direction? Whatever it is we have become aware of it is likely personal. And now, coming forward in the Libra Moon cycle, will be the reflection of this in our experiences through partnerships. Time and space as attributes of a separation paradigm has invented a manner in which values can be shared. Money. Our values to others, or theirs to us, is held in a static state through the existence of money. The typical belief is we can instigate interaction by presenting money. Money is like interactions tallied and held in a static form, relationship energy on hold. During the Libra Moon cycle we can choose to evolve our understanding of how our value to one another is shared through partnership experiences. We stand at the threshold of unlocking the avenues of how money implies time space belief systems. Such expanded awareness will allow us to consciously align with the natural pulse where we share our presence with one another in the expansive now.

next New Moon Sunday October 18th 1:34 AM

Soulstar Astrology Appointments

Your personal Soulstar Astrology consultation is intended to provide practical clarity in the areas of your concern or question. By directing focus toward personal questions like: "What is going on in my life? How long will this last? What am I being setup to notice?", an expanded perspective is reached which places you in a competent position of personal ownership and authority. By uncovering hidden meanings behind events and dramas a new direction can be confidently known and understood. A confirmation of intuitive insight establishes and galvanizes personal trust.

Soulstar Astrology consultation reveals the purpose and intention behind your divine blueprint. Focusing on the belief that we are human having a spiritual experience a re-framing of past and current dramas occurs. The future is shown by following cycles and phases of change.

Self love and self trust are supported and implied within the astrological interpretations. The integrity of life itself is extended into conscious awareness affecting relationship health abundance and personal fulfillment.

For more information about Soulstar Astrology consultations in the web at address below:

<http://www.williamoulton.com/Soulstar/readings/freadings/freadings.php>

Sample Intentions for New Moon Friday September 18th 2:45 PM EST

- 01 The experience of my magical self in action is known to me beyond the specific event or means in which I experience it, I am the freedom I love.
- 02 I feel each thought through and can feel it's place in the larger scheme of my being.
- 03 By trusting my body and I am able to find the parallels between my ego's choices and my emotional experience.
- 04 I am moving out of limitation by allowing myself to discover hidden beliefs which no longer serve my evolving significance.
- 05 The changes I intend to make are assisted by my renewed commitment to be focused and clear, I am absolutely clear as to where I am going.
- 06 The quality of my boundaries will be revealed to me in a most gentle and joyful way.
- 07 I am ready to own my part in an existing or past partnership where inappropriate control and power was issued to another through manipulation of shared resources.
- 08 My left and right brain functions are in balance and harmony reflecting my intuitive clarity.
- 09 I have the most wonderful eyes, I can see very clearly.
- 10 By trusting my feelings I allow my nurturing impulse to lead me into deeper understanding of both family and community.
- 11 I am becoming aware of where my action energy comes and how it is connected to partnership.
- 12 I am aware that fear is a choice, effortlessly I come up with alternative perspectives.
- 13 I trust that my action steps are aligned to the dawning of a new Earth.
- 14 I am moving a new sense of self admiration into real life.
- 15 I am experiencing a fresh new connection with community and friends.
- 16 I am discovering the foundational quality of my relationship with the Earth.
- 17 In an effortless fashion I am discovering the deeper meanings of my partnerships.
- 18 My boldness is the by-product of my effortless connection with Spirit
- 19 I am being acknowledged for my professionalism.
- 20 Before I place the crown on the head of another I make sure my own is comfortable in place.
- 21 I am evolving a sensitive awareness, I am feeling how apparent separate events have something in common.

William Oulton

September 14th 2009