Overview for New Moon Solar Eclipse Sunday July 11th 3:42 PM EST

Saturn in Virgo opposite to Uranus in Aries will keep things stirred up in the area of human rights. Those who have manifested themselves in society as some sort of regulator or authority figure, Saturn in Virgo, are being challenged now by many individuals, Uranus in Aries, who have been motivated to question the logic and design which qualifies the authority. With Mars in Virgo these authority figures will experience aggressive objecting individuals in their own turf and getting closer as Mars heads toward Saturn during this Moon cycle. As Saturn enters Libra the value of relationships, the quality of energy interchange it supports, will be scrutinized. Mars will follow Saturn into Libra and form a conjunction on July 31st and August 1st. We can consider money, for example, as a quality of energy interchange. Uranus in Aries indicates some unexpected actions which will break open the boundaries of rules and or laws which some authority institutions have been issuing. It will become obvious that the old rules will simply be non-functional in the face of those who are demanding their freedom and rights be acknowledged. Stern warnings are no longer enough to quiet the disgruntled mass of individuals who are taking some sort of aggressive action project to vent their frustration of not being heard or appreciated. If an individual is feeling some frustration in that their creative value is not able to carry them into their dream career they may want to consider being patient, stepping back, as opposed to getting pulled into a wave of aggressive individuals who are too sure that they know where the problem is. The thing which is being busted here is inappropriate partnership or relationship understandings as these understandings cannot facilitate the motivation and acceleration many individuals are experiencing as impulses to take action now. At a future time we may look back and see this as a point when security for the individual was given a better and more fair deal. Look for something to be unexpectedly uncovered.

"I want to do this but it's not a good idea." With the new Moon in Cancer the impulsive self brings forward some excitement connected with self expression. The impulsive self is quite wonderful to experience, it knows and accepts the now as if the spontaneous moment is real. When experiencing the excitement to go for something the expression of this excitement must be rationalized within one's thought process, the impulse is qualified by the ego. Foundational beliefs which qualify and rationalize the expression become observable to the individual by choice. If, for example, something does not seem like a good idea the opportunity is to identify and discover the founding qualifying belief which is at hand. In some cases the rationalization may be connected to a past event or trauma. If the current self possess a reformed self identity, a self identity which epitomizes an evolved self awareness, a discovery may be made where the rationalization behind a desired action is connected to an obsolete self identity. The wisdom of the individual, to journey into the belief system and discover the external authority which was allowed to take ownership of a portion of one's will, moves on the current opportunity. It is the associated self identity which confronts the external authority then which still holds command over one's will now. Through the simplicity of observing and admitting this, taking responsibility, a release of one's valuable essence from a past drama occurs. As always we can conger up more choice. We move our excitement, or enthusiastic self expression, our action energy, into more useful and desirable experiences.

As Mars in Virgo will be sextile to the Cancer new Moon Solar Eclipse the action power which is the innate nature of Mars will be enhanced. When we consider the symbiosis which exist in organic nature we can see that the design inherent in organic creatures is one that allows each individual creature to be in a symbiotic harmony with the greater whole, Mother Earth. This understanding is relevant as Mars is in Virgo and Virgo is associated with the innocence of Earth bound creatures. Virgo as such has been associated with healing. There is a design within Mother Nature which Virgo is associated with. Mars is not a designer sort of thing, it's about action and so the these actions will be facilitated by the relationship design the individual has agreed to give energy to. If relationship design is not agreeable between relating parties collisions will result, such collisions are experienced as emotional reactions. These collisions will be fleshed out by the Moon. By observing these relationship collisions, if they do indeed occur, we can choose to discover the relationship design which is not harmonized or in accord with our natural propensity to be in harmony with our organic terrestrial reality. As always by trusting our feelings, our natural organic intelligence, we can indeed uncover influences stemming from believes and their correlating external authorities which are interfering with our connection to the sweetness and innocence of Mother Earth's harmony.

If something isn't fun why do it? Our responsibilities, when viewed with increased congruency, when viewed through an emotional holographical nature, send us high and privy us to an expanded panorama of specific events. Achieving such an expanded perspective allows one to stand at a well of pure nurturing energy where the water in the well is pure emotional awareness, unattached to specific opinion. This well can be likened to the divine nurturing support available to those who have the courage to trust in their affiliation with the source of creation. As we raise our vibration of self awareness and merge with this well of awareness we choose perspective, which is the act of making choice, we attach the pureness of ourselves to a specific perspective. If we do not feel joy in the perspective we simply go back to the well. Everything as such is opinion and this is the fact the free mind is founded on. Go to the well then and say "show me the fun", and out pops a perspective. Gee I never thought of it that way. As we embrace the power of insisting on joyful perspective we give ourselves delicious reason to move ahead with our responsibilities which in the past we may have been blinded to. When we consider that everything is energy, that everything is someone's opinion, we begin to see that everything which has been structured to create human interaction is actually playacting. As it becomes evident that the opinion of a few, their playacting, has been the seed construction or blueprint for the masses and that the masses may no longer be finding joy in the opinions of a few others, we can see that perhaps the masses would do well to take a drink from the well themselves. As this is a new Moon Solar Eclipse in Cancer our intention to either resurrect or activate our playacting can indeed introduce fresh new opinion into social dynamics. With Pluto in Capricorn, Capricorn is the opposite zodiac sign to Cancer, the destroying and creating of opinion as it is manifested into terrestrial dimensions of time space is occurring. The individuals who find this well and choose perspectives which are enticing will facilitate grander operations. Like a surfer riding a wave the inspired participate as they align their choices to these grand operations.

Saturn in Virgo is opposite Uranus in Aries. Virgo and Aries are not opposite signs yet the late degree of Saturn and the early degree of Uranus forms this hidden opposition. When Saturn and Uranus are on the same page, in harmony, then this will act as a complementary force. If not then an opposing force is experienced. This becomes interesting as we look at Uranus in Aries as the unburdening of Mars, and that Mars is now in Virgo along with Saturn. Also in Virgo is Vesta, self sacrifice, and Venus, how we let life in. Relative to our Cancer new Moon Virgo affects thinking and communicating, which prompts us to look at Mercury, now in Leo. With both Mars and Vesta in Virgo sextile the new Moon we can expect communication to take on some inspired expressions. If there are challenges in this area then each of the opposing forces can be known as representing fragments of one's will. Again the wisdom and precision of the individual will bring harmony into their whole self by accepting the challenges as indicators as to where one has left them self. Virgo is ideal for this objective self exploration. A keynote within this self observation is to witness how relationships are designed. For example who do you need someone to be, or vice-versa, in order to move excitement energy? If we make inspired intentions during the new Moon phase we give our spontaneous self a place to move inspired impulses as opposed to falling back on default patterns to move us into experiences. Either way once we become spontaneous in the moment we are along for the ride.

In the event that we are inspired to take some sort of bold public action we will be either challenged or supported by our relationship concepts. When action energy is related to or dependant upon beliefs about security the manner in which an individual values their connection with certain others is constrained to a certain relationship design. For example in the statement "When I do this I will clearly be supported by others", implies specific adherence to how their relation with these others is assumed to be designed. It is this assumed or accepted design which is currently being called into question. Uranus in opposition to Saturn parallels this dynamic. The Saturn in Virgo Uranus in Aries opposition will force, if necessary, some to look at certain attitude or behavior which has been governing their relationship dynamics. Within relationship dynamics both the supporters and the designers will be emotionally reminded of each other and in some cases will literally be called together. This calling together provides opportunities to resolve security issues and potentially frees up an individuals power and will. With this being a Cancer Moon cycle these issues will be related to things like the repression of playful expression or parental authority. Ongoing unresolved issues projected from childhood into adulthood play out now. It is the individual who has acquired an evolved understanding of their place within existence, who has mastered an impeccable self acceptance, who will begin a de-structuring, or restructuring, process which in effect places new evolved relationship designs into social interaction scenarios creating new opportunities to share excitement together.

With asteroid Vesta in Virgo sextile to asteroid Juno, which is in conjunction to the new Moon solar eclipse, we can expect an increased resonance with nurturing impulses. The urge to support some relationship design, even if feels inferior, the urge to experience appreciation, even if it based on denial management, are toned up here. These urges can be triangulated with the divine nurturing harmonic and experienced as a elevation into the higher octaves of self awareness. The ability to be nurturing while excepting the creative power of self and others makes this particular new Moon solar eclipse valuable in terms of being apart of global transformation. In fact nurturing is only valid as a support extended to the creative expression of existence. If a person is inspired to be supportive and nurturing to a friend who is in some distress, the friends distress is a facilitating ingredient for this nurturing person to experience the self satisfaction of being nurturing. When the nurturing individual is aware of the difference between supporting their friends creative power as opposed to being a validating factor in justifying the particular event their friend is directing their intention toward, then the nurturing person becomes the holder or keeper of an expanded version of awareness. Sometimes we may know something is not right in say our social interaction. The stop or plug placed in the path of our inspired expression may be reasoned as "How would I be perceived if I said such and such? I am not sure that I would like myself." By embracing divine nurturing however we align with a certain harmonic, this alignment stretches our insight and intuition, we are able to be impulsive, nurturing, and honest, in the moment.

Birthdates

This Birthdates section is a list of birthdays which are being strongly affected by current astrological alignments. If a birthdate is not listed here it doesn't mean that a person is not experiencing significant astrological influences which are dynamically paralleling life changes. After all we are experiencing tremendous Earth changes now, nobody is excluded. The people who do have these birth dates are being strongly influenced now and are likely experiencing life altering dynamics. In some cases great opportunities are occurring and in others great challenges are brought forward. Since all challenges can be re-framed as opportunities all those who have these birthdays are experiencing great live changing opportunities. If a birthdate is just a day or so previous to the listed date then the person has recently experienced a major change. Due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the change is not necessarily complete, it may return. If a birthday follows a date listed the person will soon experience a major change. Again due to the retrograde nature of transiting planets the person may have already begun a major change which seems to have backed off, and will most definitely return.

Fourteen Period Format

The Pathfinder Report follows the Moon through fourteen periods in 29 days beginning on the new Moon. The Fourteen periods, or phases, follow the Moon's journey through the entire Moon cycle. Each period will have a particular flavor or tone and is interpreted here as a unique opportunity. The first period begins at the moment of new Moon and continues until the Moon's first ingress. The Moon will ingress into the next zodiac sign thirteen times yielding fourteen unique periods. As each individual's journey and process is a unique personal adventure this report is to be considered a generalization. In some cases example scenarios are given to assist in providing clarity as to how specific astro alignments may be experienced.

01 Sunday July 11th - New Moon Solar Eclipse in Cancer 3:42 PM

One of the interesting things which can be looked at and evolved during this Moon cycle is playacting. As we move into greater maturity we may have cleared some judgment and opinion which restricted playacting. Is there power in this, playacting? If we call it ceremony we can see that it has been a big part of our life, we can see that it is a vehicle for social and partnership interaction. The dismissal of playacting may have occurred because it was deemed naive or childish and yet such proclamation has allowed a limited number of authorities or opinions to control what is allowed in processes which can now be clearly seen as just simply playacting. Can we resurrect an inner power simply by reactivating our natural propensity to playacting? This new Moon Solar Eclipse may be just the ticket.

02 Monday July 12th - Moon enters Leo 8:55 AM

Self admiration is now being supported by one's role in the current wave of social changes which are sweeping through communities. The individual who experiences the acceleration of their self admiration may not realize that they are indeed surfing upon a larger global wave of infrastructure change and yet this is happening. Those who are inspired are aligning to this massive wave. Those who are experiencing difficulty in this personal area may want to consider the paradigms which their intentions are attached to. Self admiration was defined diffidently in the past and this is evident by those who have been adults for longer periods of time as opposed to those who have recently moved into adulthood. And of course there are those adults who are born to be revolutionaries or rebels and we can see this group is happier than ever in their pronouncement of infrastructure inadequacies. Well as all this is perhaps a matter of opinion we can, if we trust our feelings with impeccability, see what the Moon in Leo shows us. How are we motivated to go forward, to be inspired and how are we not? Those who have been having difficulty, perhaps they need simply embrace change.

03 Wednesday July 14th - Moon enters Virgo 9 :16 AM

Now that the Moon is in Virgo we may begin reacting to something someone said which indicates their interest is diverted from our own. This may be an immediate dynamic or a remembered one. What is implied here is not so much relationship control but relationship design. The fear of realizing that a relationship cannot service what some feel they need can cause some to want to control the relationship however such control is futile in the face of one who is truly feeling the current nurturing impulse from the Cancer Moon cycle. The fear of being alone for example may cause some to say things impatiently or aggressively and yet it can be felt that this person needs some support. The support does not have to be giving into their need if this need somehow defines you. They would not be interacting with you if you did not also possess some opportunity to gain and evolve clarity. As a suggestion, if such a dynamic occurs bring your objective attention to the implied relationship design which qualifies the emotional experience.

04 Friday July 16th - Moon enters Libra 10:25 AM

Implied within our spontaneous creative expression is a self identity. This identity is the platform or foundation that the spontaneous expression requires in order that it can become a real experience. As the Moon transits Libra this implied identity can surface and become known to us through our emotional awareness. The quality of the identity perhaps will be internally negotiated. I like this about myself or I don't like this about myself. With the fires starting and burning in Aries, as both Jupiter and Uranus are currently transiting there, Aries being significant because it is the opposite zodiac sign to Libra, the identity can catch fire. The energy lift, in terms of the spontaneous expression is the charge which occurs through a relating experience. Our spontaneous expression is delicious because it epitomizes our sharing and harmonizing with others. Our concept of survival affects how we react to the current active Aries energy, which in turn affects what we seek in our spontaneous creative Libra adventures. Our identity is implied in the quality of our trust and acceptance within a relating experience. It is through this experience that we become aware of, experience, our authentic identity. We may find that there is a growing or blossoming of spectacle as the thrill of experiencing shared enthusiasm is supported by Uranus and Jupiter in Aries. A wonderful self discovery is at hand.

05 Sunday July 18th - Moon enters Scorpio 1:43 PM

The excitement and enthusiasm to express one's creative impulse comes forward now. The Moon in Scorpio will prompt us either to do this or show us what we are holding onto which prefers we would rather suppress desire. Rationalizations coming from concepts that make up one's social foundation, as in what is socially acceptable, can potentially oppose the more sensual impulse of the individual. A radical move from a safe but dull experience to the excitement of expressing sensual and creative urges may occur now. The Grand Canyon between these two apparent opposing approaches is filled with our natural desire to share values with others. Just considering sensuality we can see sharing is implied in this human nature. As we feel deep impulses of sharing coming forward we can choose to see, to witness, how we rationalize and respond. Our response will be indicative of accepted beliefs and the influencing paradigm which establish rationalization. The organic nature of humanity is very real. The quality of acknowledging and valuing this nature is shown to the individual by the manner in which they, as an individual, choose to participate and harmonize within a greater organic symbiosis. Distractions are identified by their inability to make such acknowledgement. Identifying these distractions leads us to rationalizations which have been allowed to supersede this basic nature. What we trust is implied in our actions as opposed to our linear rationalizations. Perhaps there are more avenues for our participation in life where we are satisfied in a more complete way.

06 Tuesday July 20th - Moon enters Sagittarius 7:50 PM

Saturn ingress Libra Wednesday July 21st 11:11 AM

Sun ingress Leo Thursday July 22 6:22 PM

Jupiter retrograde Friday July 23rd 8:04 AM

Clarity in how boldness is connected to public reputation is shown to us through our feeling reactions now. As we enliven our enthusiasm we may be reminded of any self imposed restrictions in our expression. What self responsibilities are we reminded of? In some cases it may take a health concern to issue the reminder. The opportunity then is to become clear as to what is a personal responsibility and what is not. For example we may have been either handing over or receiving some sort of support in our connection with our public image which has become obsolete. In our clarity then we bring ourselves up to date with some newly reformed or formulated commitment. If we do indeed find our enthusiasm has been routed into a now undesired experience or expectation we will make this enthusiasm, this stuff if you will, available for a fresh new commitment. What is it which supports our sense of personal responsibility and at the same time is enjoyable?

07 Friday July 23rd - Moon enters Capricorn 4:40 AM

As our creative expression finds new territory, assuming this is the case, our partnerships also find new territory. Or our creative expression implies that a territory exists which inspires others to accept the viability of a partnership. In order for these new territories to come forward, to become real, old territory is deceased, simply because it no longer draws excitement or attention. This can parallel a growing lack of interest in giving one's energy to once acceptable social rules or moralities and instead introducing new more inspired ones which seem to be very good and obvious improvements. The meaning of urgency, for example, changes, as what was connected with the urgency becomes enticing as opposed to painful. Our enthusiasm, in it's authentic representation, has a natural order and schedule which, in a seemingly profound sense, is always on time and in place. Where there is a lack of such magical synchronization there will surely be some form of panic or impatience. The Moon in Capricorn will flesh out for us where such a dichotomy exists within our anticipation, and especially it will use partnership to do it. The connection between inspired expression and the effectiveness of partnerships to successfully bring us into new social potentials is holographic in nature aligning maturity with playful expression. Partnership experiences which may have been blocked or difficult to launch in the past are now supported if they are indeed aligned with some form of authentic interest in social integrity.

08 Sunday July 25th - Moon enters Aquarius 3:39 PM

Full Moon Sunday July 25th 9:38 PM

Seeing this is the period in which the full Moon occurs we may be given an opportunity to experience how our reflected self has been or is owned by opinion which implies social distinction. When we are excited about being involved socially we brighten up, our self acceptance shines and supports harmony simply by being involved in the moment. The courage to look beyond the brim of the hats we have been wearing introduces us to such an evolved self who holds a particular frequency awareness and experiences a multi layered sense of existence. The courage to accept nothing in terms of a self definition which requires external validation or approval avails such a perspective. In support of this growing clarity we may be called to observe what it is which draws our attention. As the Moon transits Aquarius we are specifically being called, emotionally called, to experience our beliefs and reflections, our opinions, concerning social distinction. In our astute awareness we accept any challenges which seem to interpret our harmony while at the same time moving them, loving them, into these other layers. For example we can be using our feelings to trace how our equality is challenged by appeasing the grandness of another, or we may be called to realize that we are not in need of others to be agreeable with our opinion and yet we can still be the best of friends. The big light here is discovering how our understanding of social harmony is related to our self acceptance.

09 Wednesday July 28th - Moon enters Pisces 4:01 AM*Mars ingress Libra Thursday July 29th 7:47 PM*

One of the interesting things which occurs when we follow our impulses and allow our creative self to participate spontaneously in life is the discovery of the illusionary realms which make up our realities and experiences. We may have been oblivious to the degree of fantasy which made up a reality once considered to be absolute. The matter of fact maneuvering of all those authority figures we have been subjected to since birth, and karmic as well, now begins to show a thinness. Isn't that interesting. If that isn't real then what is? It is precisely this sort of observation and discovery which the Moon in Pisces can lead us to now. The overwhelming of our sensitivity will occur if we attempt to hang onto an illusionary version of reality when in fact we know deep down inside us that it has most definitely run it's course. After all all realities are based in frequency modulation. We may discover how we have been the plaything of others. What oblivious acceptance have we out grown then? With courage and strength to admit that we may have accepted something because we gripped onto some identity, an identity which is now being shed, we will discover that we do indeed have many other choices. With Chiron now in Pisces we can choose to feel who we are as a sort of centaur type presence. How does it feel? Who's fantasy are we willing to be apart of now. Considering the idea of seeing realities as fantasies we may perhaps discover why we long for fantasy and role playing. In our clarity about the nature of reality, the nature of participating in illusion, we relax and reduce anxiety and get on with having a very fulfilling and exciting life.

10 Friday July 30th - Moon enters Aries 4:43 PM

The quality of our acceptance of our impulsive self is shown to us now as the Moon transits Aries. With both Jupiter and Uranus in Aries we can expect this to be a somewhat dynamic Moon transit. We may be called to stick up for ourselves in terms of public reputation or professionally, or we may have the impulse to take some action which is related to our public experience. Mars will follow Saturn into Libra and form a conjunction on July 31st and August 1st indicating boldness meeting up with authorities. Whatever occurs can be seen from the perspective that we are being shown how we are accepting our personal boldness, our warrior self. With Uranus opposed by Saturn and Jupiter squared by Pluto the actions we are taking, or considering, will be related to the revolution in both the social infrastructure and the personal revolution of how we are understanding the ground rules which govern our relating experiences. Likely it is both and as such it will pay us the dividend of increased clarity to observe and witness how these two apparently separate experiences are related and are running parallel.

11 Monday August 2nd - Moon enters Taurus 4:14 AM

Our spontaneous interaction with friends is related to our foundational beliefs and thoughts which this foundation spawns. Conceiving of thoughts, or concepts, as things, it is these things which build the foundation for social expressions. The Moon in Taurus now will flesh out our own internal harmony in terms of the integrity of this foundation. By connecting or bridging these concepts, our natural social expression and our foundational beliefs, we are able to reach new vistas of social harmony. To improve upon or achieve such harmony we need simply pay attention to what we emotionally react to, in terms of our community or social experience, and make some decisions for ourselves in terms of what we value. If we are overwhelmed by an event or a memory we can choose to feel it though, we can choose to allow this feeling truth to reveal where perhaps we are holding onto a contradiction. We will know when we have arrived at a new clarity because we will immediately feel accepting and enthusiastic about some social interaction which was previously considered difficult. Remember it is our creative enthusiastic self, our inspired self, which is spontaneous in it's nature. Limitations upon this aspect of self are brought to light, first by our social discomfort, and then by our prudent self observation. If we value this spontaneous self, if we can trust it, as if it is aware of something really big, as if it is intelligent and knows what it is doing, we can team up with this self and be guided to how we limit it's presence in our social interaction. The T square formed by Jupiter in Aries opposite to Mars in Libra, both square to Pluto in Capricorn, indicates charged up relationship dramas which can also be counted on to flesh the truth of one's foundation. Here appropriate setups are created such that the individual can meet up with the quality of their own integrity.

12 Wednesday August 4th - Moon enters Gemini 12:55 PM

The quality of individual self confidence will directly affect the clarity and effectiveness of communications. This can be said for this entire Moon cycle, or for any moment, and yet now that the Moon is transiting Gemini it is particularly apparent. The astral and psychic hash, like poor static filled radio reception, is a conglomeration of many competing voices all broadcasting at the same time. As the individual picks up these signals they may assume it is their own intentions. And yes there is a connection to their intentions which attracts these signals. The source of the signal however may be incorrectly assumed. The individual who has achieved a degree of sovereignty will be able to quickly and clearly discern the value and relevancy of these signals relative to their desired direction and experiences. If thoughts and words are getting mixed up now it is a good time to pay attention to what we are allowing into our psychic space. Perhaps this is a good opportunity to become clear as to how self confidence and mental housekeeping are related.

13 Friday August 6th - Moon enters Cancer 5:51 PM

Dark Moon begins Sunday August 8th 2:11 AM

When we trap ourselves within logic we increase the significance of things which may be poised for an ending. If such is the case we will be given an emotional heads up. Our creative self knows how to participate in what can be considered as an evolving significance. The deflation of some significance makes room for a new significance to replace it. For example we can accept the fact that Pluto is now in Capricorn, we can choose to be an active participant in the restructuring of authority. From the Cancerian perspective, Cancer being the opposite zodiac sign to Capricorn, this restructuring of authority is the vehicle for how we share our impulse with an outer collective social world. Doing so we align with a wave of creative and impulsive energy which will support our creativity as well as our relationships with others who are surfing this wave of global change. If, on the other hand, we choose to adhere to some form of austerity which is directly in path of major restructuring we may feel the quality of this choice. It is, as such, a good idea to value our emotional take on current events. As we direct our enthusiasm toward say the new authority revolution and then direct our attention to maintaining the historic models we can experience, within ourselves, an emotional evaluation of each perspective. The dichotomy presented is apparent because of the quality of our comfort and equality of self acceptance implied in each different view. As the Moon returns to Cancer now and we approach a dark Moon period we move into an integration of all which we have experienced during this Moon cycle. As always we have free choice and it is this free choice which is valued by our nurturing nature.

14 Sunday August 8th - Moon enters Leo 7:24 PM

As the Moon moves now into Leo we can choose to ready and prepare ourselves for this coming cycle by intending to discover and align our identity in an ever increasing manner. We have the opportunity to bring our self concept to greater completeness during a Leo Moon cycle. For example we may choose to ask ourselves how original our ideas are. Perhaps this will mean letting go of some self concepts so we can discover what is there waiting in the wings for us. Since our self concept, who we believe ourselves to be, determines what sort of signal we broadcast, we begin to see how we service the opinion of others simply by allowing our identity to be defined by an external authority. The events which we attract and pull into our lives are the evidence of this. This external authority may have been taken on long ago, in childhood or as a young adult. The time space gap, between then and now, is non-existent in our emotional and spiritual awareness. It is the mental and physical self which works with such division, division created by time space concept. This division, when harmonized through evolved self awareness, epitomizes the actions of individual who has collected and qualified their will around a core identity of self awareness. Self love, as an irresistible impulse, shines into all portions of self once the individual has evolved a congruent self awareness. Leo is powerful in that an individual who has achieved a congruent self awareness will hold a frequency of stability which affects their world, their inner and outer world, their personal and collective world.

Soulstar Astrology Appointments

For those interested in personal astrology readings it is important to note that Soulstar Astrology readings are based on the belief that you create your own reality. As such our experiences and most especially our difficulties can be framed as opportunities to evolve toward one's higher plan. As humanity has, in the last several years and continuing now, been going through identity discernment a questioning as to where one is going and who the self is that is going there may occur. The understanding of a particular identity will be connected to particular astro alignments and planetary placement. The astrology charts show us how things are connected from a vaster perspective. Knowing these connections and perspectives opens the door for more choices. Astrology works well with dates and so consider keeping a record or make a note of some specific date or time frame in which some major dynamic has occurred. Dates can increase the value of a reading by directing the reading to specific portions of a rather extensive personal blueprint of one's potential for experience.

Astrology readings are typically recorded to either CD or tape. If you are interested in setting a date for a session or would like to inquire further feel free to call or check out the web site.

- 11 I am choosing the perspective that I am the designer behind the changes I am experiencing.
- 12 I appreciate and acknowledge the nurturing impulse which sustains and supports organic life.
- 13 I feel the depth of sensual energy all around me.
- 14 I triangulate differences of opinion instantly simply by acting as if solutions are right there for me to grasp.
- 15 I harmonize my creative spirit with major social changes.
- 16 I am both giving and decisive in my partnership experiences.
- 17 When my thoughts are unsteady I step back and begin to feel what it is I am attracting.
- 18 My playacting is very powerful, I step in and out of realities with clarity and stability.
- 19 I am discerning the difference between my own natural unconditional nurturing and the apparent need to satisfy social regulation and social reputation.
- 20 I play my day out etherically by focusing on why life is a joy, and then I am along for the ride.
- 21 If something does not feel completely right to me I gently step back and begin to see the bigger picture.
- 22 I am uncovering beliefs which have lead me to blind trust.
- 23 I align my impulsive self with my higher self.
- 24 When something does not feel right to me I ask what does this have to do with me.
